

Earlham Sargasso NICHOLSON PRINTING COMPANY
RICHMOND, INDIANA

The Sargasso

An Annual Record of Observations on Earlham Life Published by the Senior Class 1926

Earlham College

Bichmond, Indiana

The Staff

11.

EDITORIAL

WESLER SCULL, Editor-in-Chief

Associate Editors

CHARLES MAXWELL Esther Burk

THELMA BALDWIN

NAOMI FURNAS

Lois Edwards

MERRILL HIATT

IRENE JARRA

ESTHER HARTSUCK

ROBERT SMITH

Art Editors

ESTHER HENBY MARSTON HODGIN

BUSINESS

THEODORE RAIFORD, Business Manager DAVID J. COPELAND, Circulation Manager

Advertising Managers

RALPH EWING

Russell Williams

FACULTY ADVISORS

Ruby Davis

Homer L. Morris

Foreword

THE Sargasso Sea, at one time the fabled graveyard of the derelict ships and debris of the Atlantic Ocean and the setting for many sea-salted stories of mystery and adventure, has had a fancied counterpart in the Earlham Annual, in which the random ideas of the college year have found a haven.

During the past year an expedition has sailed into this sea, that is at once a part of and yet separate from the great currents of the ocean, and found its real, distinguishing character in the unique organization and interdependence of its many and varied forms of life.

It is the hope of the staff that the notes of this record on the Sargassolike life of Earlham College during the year nineteen hundred twentyfive and six may serve to recall some of its many pleasant experiences.

Dedication

TO DOCTOR MARTHA DOAN, who, through her high attainment in her chosen science, her broad general scholarship, her infinite thoughtfulness, has come to be an essential part of Earlham as our dean of women. Her sprightly wit, her multitudinous interests, her devotion to the welfare of every individual student have made her a cultural force on the Earlham campus, the value of which cannot be estimated.

Scenes

Administration

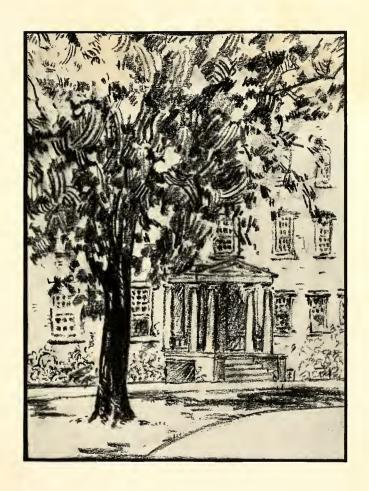

Classes

Athletics

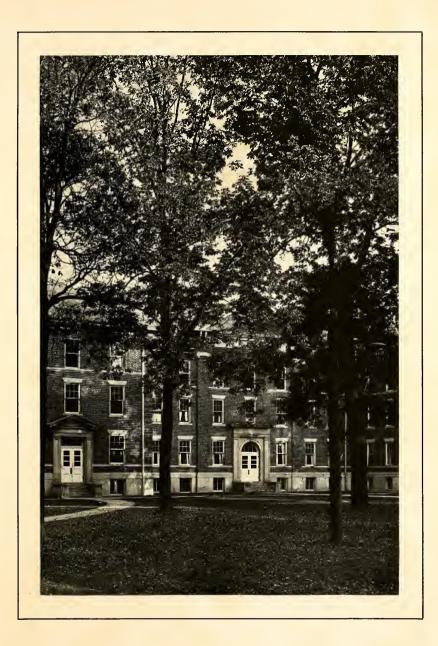

Activities

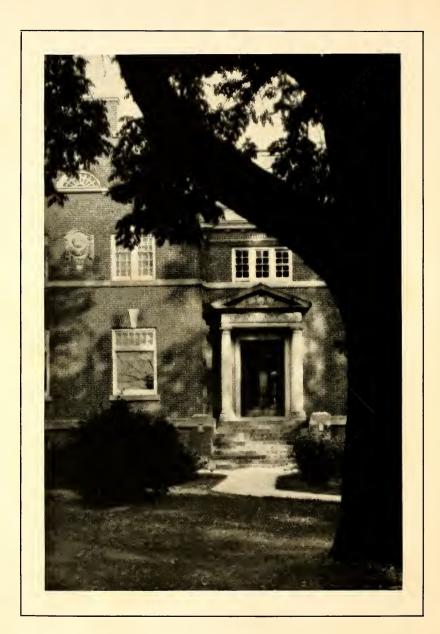

Cog

Drift

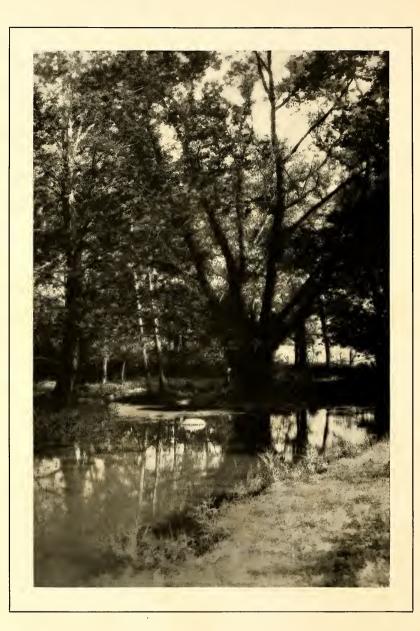

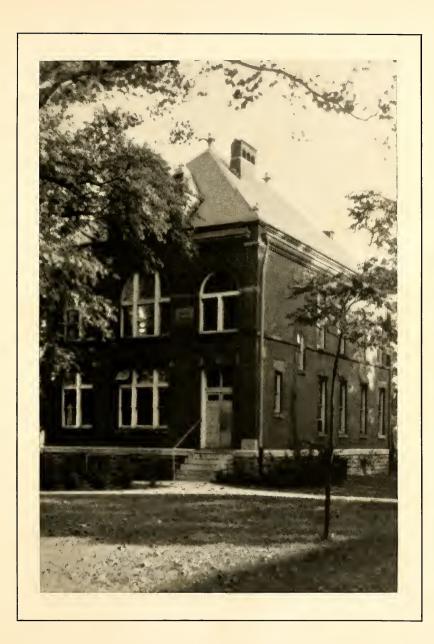

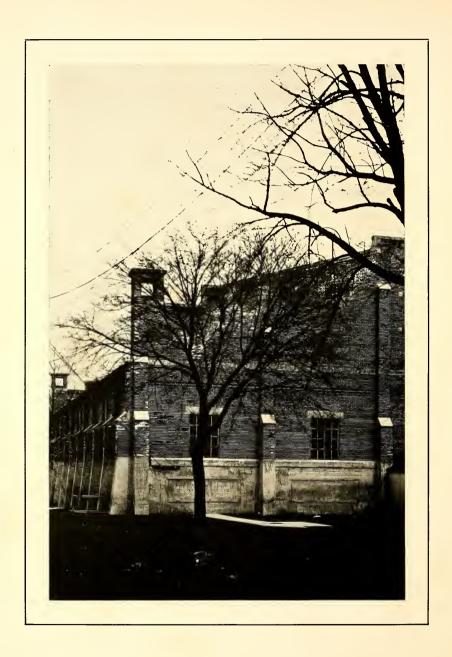

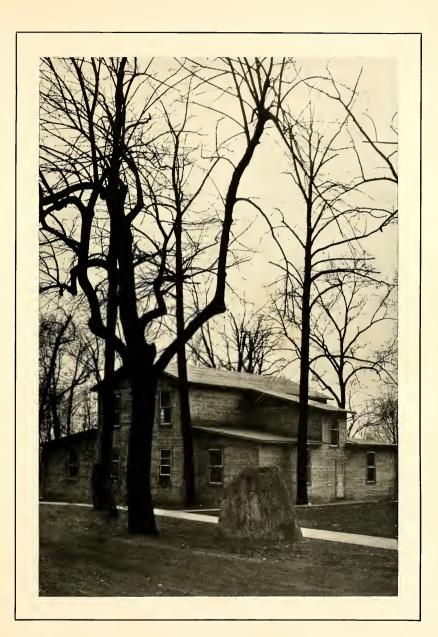

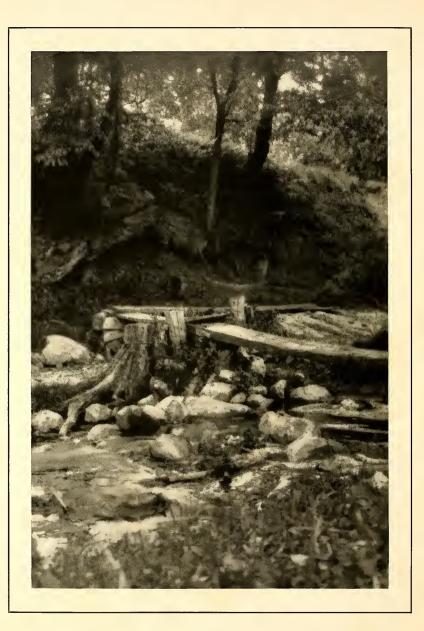

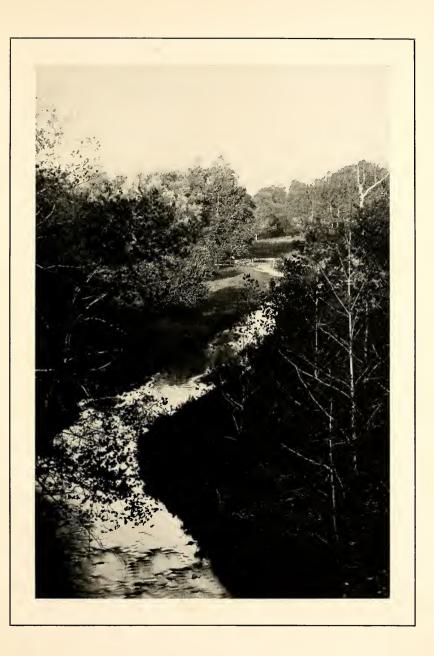

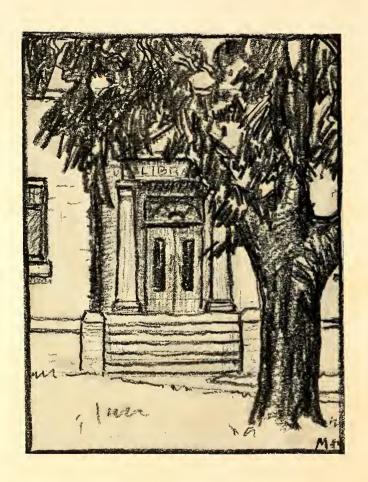

Administration

Board of Trustees

Walter C. Woodward, Ph. D., President Alvin E. Wildman, B. S., Vice-President Ernest Atkins Wildman, Ph. D., Secretary Atwood L. Jenkins, B. S., Treasurer

TRUSTEES FROM INDIANA YEARLY MEETING

Joseph A. Goudard	Muncie, Indiana
LUCY HILL BINFORD	Greenfield, Indiana
ALVIN E. WILDMAN, '86	Selma, Ohio
Walter C. Woodward, '99	Richmond, Indiana
CHARLES M. WOODMAN	Richmond, Įndiana
I. EDWARD GREEN	Muncie. Indiana

TRUSTEES FROM WESTERN YEARLY MEETING

OLIVER P. CLARK, '89	is
Albert L. Copeland, '02	າລ
Charles A. Reeve	ıa
Mary Miars Harold	ıa
Edward D. Evans, '87	ıa
Marianna Brown	ıa

TRUSTEES FROM ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Murray S. Barker, '97	ı, Indiana
SUMNER A. MILLS, '20Indianapolis	s, Indiana
WARDER C ALLER Chicago	o Illinois

TRUSTEE EX-OFFICIO

DAVID MORTON EDWARDS, PH. D., Earlham, Indiana

The President

A S Dr. Edwards approaches his tenth anniversary as President of Earlham College, he has a decade of busy, successful years upon which to reflect. The future of Earlham, with its quadrangle of buildings and adequate equipment looms bright and colorful for the succeeding generations. Certainly we students now at Earlham are more fortunate than we appreciate in having an administrative body of progressive men and women who are open-minded and eager to make the college a place where real intellectual achievement may be stimulated. Though the president has necessarily been absent from the college a great part of the time during the last four years, and consequently his eagerness to know each student individually has been hampered, his real interest and friendliness on the campus have been evident to us all.

Those of us who leave college this June particularly wish to express to President Edwards our enthusiasm and anticipation for an Earlham in the future which will even surpass the one we have known.

To Earlham now our song we raise,
Oh, she will ever be
The fairest school of all the rest—
A sacred memory.
As we look back on college days,
Their gladness to recall,
We'll make her name still ring with praise,
And love her best of all.

AFTER two years of observation we ask ourselves in amazement, "How did we ever survive the intricacies of campus life before we had a dean of the college?" Dean Wright is always available for consultation on any subject at any hour in the day, except in the early fall and late spring when he reserves the hours from four until six to chase a golf ball over the greens of a nine-hole course!

WILLIAM NEWBY TRUEBLOOD, LITT. D. Earlham College

Professor of English

"Professor Wm. N." has witnessed the passing of more student generations than any other member of the Earlhand faculty. Moreover, he is revered and loved by them all. A happy combination of poet and philosopher, plus a reassuring twinkle, make him genuinely human.

Anna Eves, A.M. Columbia University

Assistant Professor of English

Miss Eves fronts even Freshman themes with a smile. Hers is a wide and careful scholarship, a sympathy with all that is fine in literature and life, and a quiet but steady lumor. Her friendly Chevrolet, all gloss and jet, is an ever present help to Day Dodgers. She is always ready to cooperate in chaperoning a camp-supper or in judging the incipiency of debaters!

CHARLES E. COSAND, A.M. University of Chicago Professor of English

Professor Cosand has a farm and a twinkle. He is the most human, democratic and genuine of men. We wish he didn't live so far away—but we know he enjoys the comparative country as Emerson did. He is a guide, philosopher, and friend to youth, directing it to ways of pleasantness and paths of peace. His is humor with a chuckle. He drives about in a resplendent Chariot of the Snn. Apollo in a Buick!

E. Merrill Root, A.B.

Amherst College

Assistant Professor of English

A genius in the art of choosing words and creating colorful, brilliant figures; an artist in the lift of rhythm and the charm of rhyme, Professor Root has the soul of a poet. His classes in English take delightful holiday runs into the country of literature, wandering through green meadows of prose and chasing delicate butterflys of poetry! His is an encouragement that inspires you to write because you love it!

Ruby Davis, Ph. D. Cornell University

Professor of English

Miss Davis is a real scholar and one who knows how to make scholarship attractive to us. She is also a thorough believer in the gospel of hard work, and has given an impetus to the flagging ambitions of many a student of English.

THOMAS KELLY, Ph. D.
Hartford Theological Seminary

Professor of Philosophy

Behold a philosopher, indeed, in whom there is a boundless store of wisdom. Who of his students would dare to lay aside the quest for truth and think näively! Dr. Kelly's experiences in Europe, plus his genuine ability to recognize true values wherever he finds them, have made his classes well worth the strenuous mental gymnastics for which they are responsible.

Assistant Professor of Psychology and Dean of Men

Wanted: Someone to deliver an address at a club meeting, here, there, and everywhere; someone to act as Dean of men, with wisdom to direct the affairs thereof; someone to explain our complexes in their varying degrees of mysteriousness; in short, someone who has the unusual gift of understanding people and showing them that he believes in them—immediately, by the law of association, Professor Milner flashes across our minds.

FLORENCE LONG, M.S. University of Illinois

Assistant Professor of Mathematics

Miss Long's gentle satire and sense of the ridiculous are a splendid latchstring for her room in Earlham Hall. She can vigorously apply the mathematical method in figuring out human nature as well as in figuring out solutions in the classroom.

Dr. Grant's sympathy and kindliness are always a source of reassurance to entering students, whether they be seniors or freshmen. He is, moreover, the popular man on Commencement day when diplomas are in order!

HOWARD HAINES BRINTON, PH.D. Leland Stanford Junior University

Professor of Physics

Philosophy and science do not usually unite in one man, yet Professor Brinton has patented the combination. The peculiar antics of atmosphere, atoms and electrons, or the eternal problem of good and evil are of equal interest to him. We are inclined to believe that he has a sufficient store of wisdom by which to live.

Fredda D. Reed, Ph.D. University of Chicago Instructor of Biology and Assistant Dean of Women

Dainty and petite is this authority on paleobotany, yet she has the poise and dignity of a veteran professor. Her interests range all the way from prehistoric coal balls to present day Biological teas!

WILLIAM SANDERS, M.S. University of Chicago Instructor in Physics

Mr. Sanders was with us for just one semester, and his exclusive attention to the realm of Physics left little time for us to know him. Nevertheless, we liked his quiet manner and his friendly good-humor.

"Daddy" Hole's most recent activity has been the establishment of a rehabilitation hospital for his scattered and injured geological specimens. The quantity of work which he accomplishes is amazing, yet he is never too rushed to assist an aspiring geologist in straightening out the intricasies of the prehistoric ages, or in classifying some unpromising rock collections.

Elsie Marshall, A.B. Earlham College

Director of Home Economics

Miss Marshall is responsible for those irresistible odors that filter up from Foods laboratory into the first floor domains of Parry and produce a deleterious effect upon hopeful young chemists. She efficiently and energetically accomplishes whatever she undertakes, whether it is work for the Community Service or chauffeuring her Dodge touring car.

MILLARD S. MARKLE, Ph.D. University of Chicago

Professor of Biology

Though Dr. Markle has always seemed partial to Darwin's explanation of the origin of the species, we venture to suggest that he has made a tremendous success of his mutation of a biology department! If his biological enthusiasm or his fund of graphic and entertaining illustrations ever slump, no one else knows it.

Ernest Atkins Wildman, Ph. D.
University of Illinois

Professor of Chemistry

We are inclined to believe that Dr. Wildman's skill in manipulating the slide rule is a direct result of instructing son William in the intricacies of elementary mathematics. By way of diversion he concocts amazing structural formulas for his class in Organic and amasses delightfully brilliant neckties for himself!

Anna Cox Brinton, Ph.D.
Leland Stanford Jr. University

Professor of Classical Languages

As hostess in her home, as the interior decorator of our minds in developing our appreciation for the classics, as an interested and helpful advisor to her students, Mrs. Brinton is a guide toward the finer things of life. Everlastingly she can conquer and find fresh worlds to conquer!

Murvel R. Garner, A.B. Earlham College

Assistant Professor in Biology

Mr. Garner's graphic presentation of Physiology and Hygiene led to a dramatic interpretation on the part of the Freshmen in chapel, and also to the anguished inquiry on the bulletin board as to the biological implications of hormones. His enviable combination of patience and a delightful sense of the ridiculous have made him tremendously well-liked, even in Freshmen circles.

Mr. Caldwell can reel off information on the structure of the atom as readily as we used to recite our multiplication tables. By way of diversion he ascertains the exact percentage of alcoholic content in suspicious and interesting samples brought to him for verdict. It's really encouraging to see how swiftly and efficiently a former student can acquire enough information to become a college professor!

RUTH L. HIGGINS, M.A. Ohio State University

Assistant Professor of History

Miss Higgins has many accomplishments to her credit this year—among them the writing of a doctoral thesis, and the successful acquiring of the chicken pox while rooming at the hospital!

Harlow Lindley, Litt.D. Hanover College

Professor of History and Librarian

Professor Lindley has a certainty in teaching history that gives one the assured and comfortable feeling of acquiring the pure and unadulterated facts. His particular attachment to the institutional theory has made him famous in the classroom.

WILLIAM E. ARMSTRONG, A.M.
University of Chicago

Assistant Professor of History

Mr. Armstrong has become very proficient in the art of conducting the entire History Department in the absence of his colleagues. His amazing knowledge of historical facts and his exceptional resourcefulness never fail him.

MARTHA PICK, L.R.A.M.

London

Assistant Professor of Modern Languages

Miss Pick has survived two equally distinguishing events this year: first, becoming a naturalized American citizen; and, second, attaining fame as the most recently bobbed haired member of the faculty. If we could speak French half as well as she speaks English, we'd go in for language, too!

ARTHUR M. CHARLES, A.M. Haverford College

Professor of Modern Languages

Professor Charles is a real scholar and gentleman whose open-mindedness, painstaking work, and infallible courtesy have won the respect and admiration of his classes.

Assistant Professor of Modern Languages

Mr. Caskie, possessed of the inimitable "esprit gaulois," and coming from many years of residence in France, is rarely fitted to teach the language of that country. His classes are strenuous and interesting, "mais il faut savoir!"

Auretta Thomas, A.M. University of Chicago Assistant Professor of Modern Languages

We should scarcely call it a prodigal return, and yet it is after several years of wandering that Miss Thomas comes back to us in the role of instructor of Spanish. We hope she will like us well enough to stay permanently this time!

CLARENCE E. PICKETT, B. D.

Hartford Theological Seminary

Professor of Biblical Literature and

College Pastor

With a contagious smile and often a merry twinkle in his eyes; with a heart big enough to take a genuine interest in all the students and to appreciate, understand, and sympathize with them, Professor Pickett sets an example of one who dares to live to the full every minute of his life.

ANITA KELSEY, M.A. Columbia University

Instructor of Modern Languages

Not content with an M. A., Miss Kelsey deserted us at the end of the first semester in order to obtain a new degree to attach to the first of her name—specifically, Mrs. We shall miss our lively and petite Spanish instructor, but, of course, we wish her much happiness.

Mr. Stewart is responsible for training all the hopeful young pedagogues in the art of teaching, and we believe he is equal to his task. Furthermore, he is an expert on administering intelligence tests, and is fully successful in determining all that we don't know!

Elsie McCoy, M.A. Ohio State University

Assistant Professor of Modern Languages

Miss McCoy jouneyed abroad last summer, her wandering being devoted exclusively to Spain. No wonder her fascinating accounts and her great enthusiasm for the Spanish language, Spanish people, and Spanish customs are beginning to make us feel jealous!

Professor of Economics and Political Science

You cannot stay in Dr. Morris' classes long without losing a lot of old prejudices and acquiring a volume of new ideas. We are still curious, nevertheless, as to how he can get away with so many pages of outside reading assignments and still be popular!

CLARA COMSTOCK, A.B. Earlham College

Director of Women's Athletics

In the fall, Miss Comstock thinks, as a true sportswoman should, that hockey is a "great game"; in midwinter, that folk-dancing and basketball have no rivals; and by spring that baseball, archery, track and golf are paramount as far as the world of sports is concerned. Her wonderful spirit and enthusiasm are invincible.

M. O. Ross, M. A. University of Chicago

Assistant Professor of Economics, and Director of Men's Athletics

Mr. Ross possesses the dignity and stature of Lincoln, combined with the composure and ease of a veteran movie star. It is sufficient, however, to say that he is the man who was responsible for that unconquerable spirit in the football squad that brought them victory last fall.

EDWIN P. TRUEBLOOD, A.M. Earlham College

Professor of Public Speaking and Supervisor of Athletics

If "Prof. Ed's" enthusiasm for debating ever slumps or his whole-souled interest in college athletics ever reaches the zero point, nobody else knows it. His optimism produces a splendid psychological effect on faculty and students alike.

Lois K. Sevringhaus, A.B.
University of Wisconsin

Instructor in Music and Director of Madrigal Club

Miss Sevringhaus is another one of our group who returned to us after a summer study abroad, interspersed with delightful bits of travel. Her charm and her musical ability, both in creation and interpretation, are indispensable assets to our music department.

Gustav A. Lehman, A.B. Earlham College

Professor of Music and Director of Men's Glee Club

"Dad" has proved that long hair is not essential to a musician. In him we can boast, not only a capable teacher and director, but a member of the famous Westminster Choir as well. He is not only a jovial friend, but a man as competent as he is successful.

Miss Cundiff's efficiency as librarian is equaled only by her generosity and delight in supplying us with all the references, clippings, bits of poetry, or scraps of humor that seem to lie at her very finger-tips, and in between times creating colorful posters for display. We understand on good authority that she is the acknowledged artist in faculty circles when it comes to writing elever, original limericks.

HERMAN O. MILES Financial Secretary

Mr. Miles has kept himself very efficiently secluded from the eyes of the students this year. Doubtless he has been absorbed in collecting the shekels for which he so successfully obtained promissory notes in the campaign for our new building fund. At least, there's a reassuring twinkle in his eyes.

LILY M. HISS, PH. B.

Earlham College

Matron

We seek her sanctuary more often than that of anyone else. Her graciousness, charm, ginger-bread, and Sunday ice-cream have assured her a lasting place in the memories of Earlhamites.

MARY LAWRENCE, A.M.

Earlham College

Postmistress

Miss Lawrence is mistress of the little glass boxes and barred windows from which she generously dispenses letters and checks. Most popular between the hours of 8:00 and 9:00, and 4:00 and 5:00.

JESSE BEALS, B.S.

Earlham College

Business Manager

Here is the man who plays havoe with our check books, but then we recognize that that is a human failing. We always see him hurrying around in a business-like way, and we suppose he is trying to figure out some method to tide us over a financial difficulty.

LAWRENCE B. MAPLESDEN, B.A. Lake Forest College
Assistant Director of Men's Athletics

Mr. Maplesden is not only responsible for the successful basketball season but is to be given a large measure of the credit for the keen competition exhibited in intramural athletics that helps to insure the success of future varsity teams.

Public School Music

Aside from the many duties and responsibilities as supervisor in the schools of Richmond, Indiana, Mr. Boson finds time to direct our public school music.

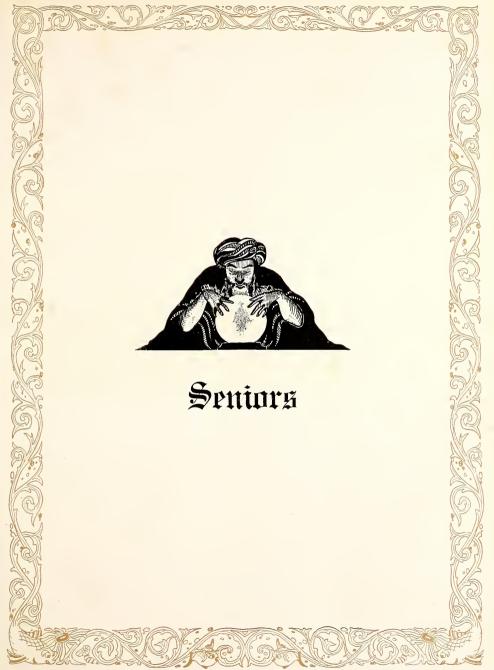

His excellent technical preparation, together with his wide experience in the field of music, equip him particularly well for this position.

Classes

JULIET SWAIN Richmond, Indiana
Latin, English

Day Dodger 1-4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Classical Club 1-4; Science Club 4; Phoenix 4.

Although Juliet's major is Latin she has many of the characteristics of the original Juliet!

JANE WEBB SYLVESTER Eaton, Ohio
English, Geology

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 4; French Club 1-2; Polity 1; Phoenix 2; Quaker Quill Board of Coutrol 4; Class Secretary 2; Booster Committee 2, 4.

Jane seemingly never gets excited, but that is no indication that she hasn't all kinds of pep. She plays easily and works easily and accomplishes as much in a half hour as the rest of us do in two.

Wendell Stanley Richmond, Indiana Chemistry, Mathematics

Mask and Mantle 3-4; Football 1-4, Captain 4; Earlhamite Editor 3; Ionian 1-2; Debates 3-4; Demosthenean 3-4; Press Club 3-4.

Wendell has the unique honor of having twice made the first state football team. Besides excelling in athletics Wendell is a chemist of the first order, spending most of his time in the lab —but not quite, for he has a little time in which he can go over to Earlham Hall and be sociable. T. Lester Swander West Elkton, Ohio
English, History

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 3-4; Chairman Precedent Committee 4; Class President 4; Chairman College Forum 4; Ionian 2-4, President 4

Our Senior President is a versatile sort of person. He can handle a frivolous class meeting or a dignified Ionian banquet with the same equanimity and poise. He can even persuade you to buy a pair of shoes that you don't need and thought you didn't want.

MILDRED STOUT Plainfield, Indiana
Mathematics, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Madrigal 1-4; College Social Committee 3; Spanish Club 1.

Our class first knew Mil as one of "those terrible sophomores" and as such she did her duty well—as she does in all things. Commencement isn't the only big thing that's going to happen to Mil in June!

Esther Stegall. New Hope, Ohio English, Physical Education

W. A. A. 1-4. Executive Committee 3-4; Holder of E. C.; Assistant Women's Athletic Director 3-4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 3-4; Day Dodger Play 1-4; Chairman Day Dodger Play Committee 3-4; Chairman Senior Play Committee 4.

It's always a pleasure to watch Esther either playing hockey or acting because she always gets so much out of it herself.

Naomi Doan Furnas Leesburg, Virginia Chemistry, Biology

Indiana University 1, Anglican 3-4, Secretary 3; Mask and Mantle 3-4; Y. W. C. A. 2-4, Cabinet 4; W. A. A. 2-4, Secretary-Treasurer 4; Phoenix 3; French Club 2-3, President 3; Science Club 4; College Forum-Executive Committee 4; Sargasso Staff 4.

"Nomie" does not let the hours she spends in the various labs keep her from enjoying other things. She can do anything from writing elever poetry or acting for Mask and Mantle to playing on the Senior Hockey team.

EDITH GRIFFIN Spiceland, Indiana

Mathematics, History

Y. W. C. A. 2-4; Spanish Club 4.

Edith has always tried to make us think that she was so serious and studious, but she couldn't keep it up long and she came back after Christmas with a diamond.

Marjorie Harold Elkhart, Indiana English, Music

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Madrigal 1-4; Spanish Club 1-4; French 1-2; Church Extension 1-3; Forum 4.

"By her voice we have known her." Marge comes into her true realm when she expresses therself in music or when she carries us away by the beautiful quality of her voice. But she is not too much of an artist to like to play around and have an awfully good time with the rest of us.

Margaret Ann Garrettson Peru, Indiana English, Latin

Butler 1; Indiana University 2; Y. W. C. A. 3-4; Classical Club 3-4; Phoenix 3-4; French Club 3; Science Club 4.

Margaret Ann possesses a whimsical frankness and a streak of mischief that are refreshing and all her own. When she isn't doing something for someone else, she amuses herself with Latin, but she never allows this or any other despondency to sink her.

Leslie Shaffer Vermilion Grove, Illinois Biology, Chemistry

Debates 4; Winner State Peace Oratorical 3; Demostheneans 3-4; Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3; Glee Club 1-4; Bundy Conneil 1; College Social Committee 2; Day Dodger 3-4; Glee Club President 3.

If Booth Tarkington should write a book on "The Gentleman from Illinois," we venture to say that Leslie would be the hero. There are some people that we just can't imagine Earlham's being without, and Leslie is one of them.

Ruthesther Gause Westfield, Indiana English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-4; Vice-President 4; W. A. A. 1-4; Spanish Club 3-4.

Whatever she is asked to do she does—and does it well. Dependable, helpful, sympathetic, a true friend—that's Ruthesther.

MAXINE KIMMEL Eaton, Ohio Home Economics, Psychology, Philosophy

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3; Classical Club 2, Secretary-Treasurer 2; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 3; Mask and Mantle 3-4; Phoenix 1-3, Chairman Executive Committee 3; Home Economics Seminar 3-4; Class Social Committee 1, 2, 4, Chairman 4.

Max is an adept at anything she undertakes and that means a lot because she will tackle anything and somehow always knows how it should be done. She can plan a party or watch a basketball game with the same poise and dignity.

RALPH EWING Richmond, Indiana

Music

We shall all be particularly auxious to hear the Westminster Choir now that Ralph will be a member. A true artist, Ralph has not only contributed much in a musical way to Earlham, but to Richmond also, and the enthusiasm with which he is received is but one proof of his ability.

MARYALICE KELSO Newcastle, Indiana English, French, Spanish

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; French Club 1-3; Spanish Club 2-4, President 4; Phoenix 3.

Dark and petite, Maryalice makes a charming as well as an efficient president of Spanish Club. Her Senior dignity doesn't fool any of us who knew her as a Freshman. She's lots of fun and the best and truest kind of a friend.

LA VERNE LINDLEY Elizabethtown, Indiana
History, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; French Club 1-2, Secretary 2; Phoenix 1-3,

If you know LaVerne at all, you aren't fooled by her quiet manner and you know that she loves fun and is always ready for anything. Her ready smile and sympathetic manner have made her a friend of all of us.

IRENE JARRA Richmond, Indiana
Biology, Lotin

Day Dodger 1-4; President Day Dodger Women 4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Treasurer 4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 4; Seience Club 4; Classical Club 2-3; Sargasso Staff 4; Orchestra 2-3; Hockey Varsity 4; Phoenix 2; Assistant in Biology.

Irene's ability, whether it is in Greek or hockey, biology or basketball, is a source of constant amazement to us. There have always been honor students, but rarely one whose achievements in every activity of college life have been as exceptional and varied.

RUTH KETRING Richmond, Indiana
History, Latin

Day Dodger 1-4; French Club 2; Classical Club 1-4; Y. W. C. A. 2-3; Summer School 1924.

Ruth can make thirteen hours of A's as easily as the rest of us can sleep. She lives to learn and we might well profit by her example and incidentally learn to live.

VIRGINIA LEE COOK Anderson, Indiana
Biology, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Student Council 3-4, Secretary 4; Science Club 3-4; Spanish Club 1-3, Secretary 3; Chairman College Social Committee 4; Health Captain 3.

We wonder how Virginia can spend so many hours in lab and still find time to help straighten out the kinks in dorm life, to provide entertainment for us on Sunday afternoons, and to keep a perpetual open house with Jane in room 256.

ROBERT L. SMITH Portland, Indiana English, History

Day Dodger 1-4; College Social Committee 3; Board of Control, Quill Staff 4; Sargasso Staff 4.

The phrase happy-go-lucky never had a meaning until it was applied to Bob. His capability is accompanied by so little concern that he keeps us worried; but that is useless for he always turns up and the thing's a success!

OLIVE M. CHARLES Plainfield, Indiana French, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; Mask and Mantle 1-4; Phoenix 2-4; Earlhamite Staff 4; French Club 1-4; Classical Club 3-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Honor Student.

As an organizer of deputations, as a student, and as a friend, Olive is faithful in every point. Her dramatic and literary abilities are but proof of her versatility.

MARY CLARK Georgetown, Illinois English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, President 4; W. A. A. 1-4; Student Council 1-3, Treasurer 3; Spanish Club 1-2; Anglican 2; Class Secretary 2.

If we ran a popularity contest at Earlham we are sure that Mary would win. Her unusual personality and cheerful friendliness have brought her the admiration and goodwill of everyone.

DAVID J. COPELAND Paoli, Indiana Economics, Chemistry

Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3-4; Ionian 1-4; Phoenix-Ionian Play Cast 2; Science Club 1-2; Commerce Club 1-2; Earlhamite Staff 4; Debates 3-4; Demostheneans 3-4; Sargasso Staff 4; Class Treasurer 4; Football Trainer 4; The Quaker Quill 4, Staff Business Manager 4.

What would chapel be like without Dave to make it cheerful and how could we have "a bigger and better Sargasso," or anything else worth while without Dave's unfailing enthusiasm and his ability to get the thing done in the best possible manner?

MARY ADAH COLLINS Berrien Springs, Mich. English, Social Science

Social Committee of Y. W. 2-3; Geneva Committee 3-4; Day Dodger 3; French Club 3.

A merry laugh and a love of fun together with real ahility and a husiness-like manner make Mary Adah as unusual as she is likeable.

Lois Edwards Richmond, Indiana

English, Music

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive 3-4; Hockey Varsity 2, 4; Basketball Varsity 2; French Club 1-2; Madrigal 1-2; Class Social Chairman 3; Sargasso Staff 4.

When we hear Lois play, we think she is remarkable, but when we watch her plan a party or make a clever pass on the hockey field, we wonder how one person can do so many things and do them so well.

Arnold B. Vaught Franklin, Indiana $History, \ Bible$

Franklin College 1-2; Ionian 3; Y. M. C. A. 3-4; Day Dodger 4.

Old Pharaoh and his chariot had nothing on our Preacher Vaught and his chariot. Arnold is a friend worth having and we only feel sorry that he was not here four years instead of two.

Esta Bedford Richmond, Indiana Biology

Penn College 1-3; Y. W. C. A. 2-4; Science Club; Day Dodger 4.

The casual observer might suppose that Esta is quite a business-like young lady, but as a matter of fact her friends find in her a most delightful sense of humor. She looks on all the world's petty woes and Lilliputian triumphs with a philosophical twinkle in her eyes.

ARLENE DUFF Cambridge City, Indiana Mathematics, English, Physical Education

W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 3-4; Holder E. C.; Day Dodger 1-4; Secretary-Treasurer Day Dodger Women 3; Chairman Social Committee Day Dodgers 4; Vice-President Student Affairs 3.

Day Dodgers 4; Vice-President Student Affairs 3.

If you have the blues hunt our "Duff" and you'll soon lose them. Her abounding good nature and honest frankness make her a rare friend. She goes at everything with the same tricless, enthusiastic manner, whether it is getting the hockey ball away from the Juniors or solving a difficult problem in Math.

ALICE C. BUNDY Spiceland, Indiana
History, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-3; Spanish Club 1-3, President 3; Madrigal 3-4, Secretary-Treasurer 4.

Although Al often says she is worried to death about her outside readings in history or her lesson plans, she's always too cheerful to make us sorry for her. We are glad that she is carrying out the new policy of being nice to Freshmen.

Mary Binford Richmond, Indiana English, Spanish

W. A. A. 1-4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Hockey 1-2; Phoenix 2-4; French Club 2-3; Spanish Club 3-4. Mary is one of the indispensable members of Phoenix, as she is of any group of which she is a member, and as a result she always has much to do.

Mary Louise Matthews Richmond, Indiana Home Economics, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 2; Home Economics Seminar 4.

Mary Louise is the other half of the "inseparables." And she is a good one to know, not only for her own merit, but they say that her father is an income tax collector! Faithful and conscientious in whatever she has to do, lots of fun to know and be with, Mary Louise will be liked wherever she goes.

CHARLES MAXWELL Plainfield, Indiana Chemistry, History

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Ionian 1-4, President 4; Bundy Council 4; Inter-Dorm 4; Science Club 4; Sargasso 4.

Either as President of Ionian or as an organic chemist Charlie is capable of holding his own. Full of fun and always glad to do something for you or with you he is indeed a good person to count among your friends.

EUNICE McGraw Tipton, Indiana Mathematics, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Orchestra 1-2; Class Secretary 1; Student Council 2, Treasurer 2; Madrigal 2, 4; Butler University 3; Mask and Mantle 4; Girls' Debates 4.

To play the flute as beautifully as Eunice does would seem to some of us quite accomplishment enough, but Eunice doesn't stop there. Gifted in many lines Eurice has made a place that will be hard to fill.

RUTH NEWLIN Mooresville, Indiana English, Latin

Classical Club 1-4; Phoenix 1-3; Y. W. C. A. 1-4.

Ruth is not only a Classical student but she is classical in appearance, and she is as good to know as she is good to look at. Her carefully thought out opinions always have weight.

OMER J. MONGER Richmond, Indiana History, Economics

Basketball 2-4; Spring Football 3; Golf Champion 4; Day Dodger 1-4.

Omer's line is quite the envy of all who have listened to him either in the class-room or selling shoes. That together with his disposition and unusual ability in golf ought to make him famous!

Rena M. Manning Economy, Indiana English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Day Dodger 1-4.

Readers of "Anglican" and the annual productions of the Advanced Comp. or Creative Comp. classes know Rena for her artistic verse or clever essays. We wonder whether she likes writing poetry better than driving her car around and making us all wish we were privileged Day Dodgers.

Helen McCoy Kokomo, Indiana

Home Economics, English

De Pauw I; Y. W. C. A. 2-4; Cabinet 4; Home Economics Seminar 4, President 4; Spanish Club 2-3; Forum 4.

Mix a hundle of nervous energy with a ready smile and a goodly portion of common sense, brush over with adaptibility and friendliness, bake in the oven of gregariousness and you have —Helen McCoy!

RUTH E. MILNER Thorntown, Indiana Biology, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-4; Spanish Club 3-4; Science Club 2-4.

Ruth has a piquant charm and a vivacious manner that make her a rare personality. She is a desirable person to have around on any occasion.

L. Joseph Moore Dana, Indiana

History, Economics

Varsity Football Squad 2-4; Varsity Basketball Squad 2; Ionian Literary Society 1; International Relations 3; Polity 2-4; Class Marshal 2.

When Joe once gets started after a thing, he usually gets it. His infectious laugh is a good contribution to the quiet of the Students' Parlor.

LEONARD E. PEARSON Indianapolis, Indiana English, History

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; French Club 1-4; Class Treasurer 2; Ionian Literary Society 1-4; Parents' Day Committee 2-4; Earlhamite Staff 3-4, Editorin-Chief 4.

Leonard can always be counted on to put the thing across, our first two Parents' Days are examples of that. His business and literary ability make him a valuable member of any group.

MARY ALICE NICHOLS Richmond, Indiana Mathematics, English

Day Dodger 1-4.

Mary is an adept whether it is vanquishing calculus or speeding an Oakland Sports Model, and she gets a tremendous enjoyment from everything.

Mary M. Maxwell Plainfield, Indiana English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-4, President 4; Science Club 1; I. U. Summer School; Chairman Parents' Day Committee 3; Phoenix-Ionian Play Cast 2.

Mary is lots of fun and yet no Phoenix President ever showed more dignity when the occasion demanded. She is clever at everything—from acting to being a good student.

LUCILE HOLLETT Russiaville, Indiana Home Economics, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-4; Spanish Club 1-2; Church Extension 1-3; Polity 1-2; Student Forum 4; Home Economics Seminar 4.

Lucile isn't swayed by every passing rumor or bit of gossip. She thinks for herself, makes her decisions, and then takes her stand. Learn to know her and you'll find a friend who will weather every test.

RUTH S. HENBY Greenfield, Indiana English, History, Education

Swarthmore College 1-2; Y. W. C. A. 1-4, U. R., Cabinet 4; College Social Committee 3; Junior Social Committee 3; W. A. A. 3-4; Phoenix 3; Polity 3.

It isn't everyone who can enter a class after it has been going two years and fit in as quickly and easily as Ruth did. Capable, charming, and absolutely individual—how did we ever do without her?

T. HADLEY HAWORTH Danville, Indiana History, Education

Spanish Club 1-4; Church Extension 1-2; Ionian 1-4; Local Oratorical Contest '25,

Hadley is good fun, whether it is a boxing match or at table. He says he wants to be an historian, but we believe he should be a dancing

OWEN HUNTSMAN Mt. Vernon, Indiana Economics, Mathematics

Press Club 2-4, President 4; EE 2-4, President 3; Football 3-4; Baskethall 2-4; Track 1-4. Captain 4; Bassball 2-4; Student Council 2-4, Secretary-Treasurer 3, President 4; Inter-Dorm 3-4, President 4; Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3-4.

"Country" excels in football, in basketball, on the cinder track and on the baseball diamond. He is a good student besides and manages to find time to enjoy the comforts of the Students' Parlor.

C. Louise Hoke Amboy, Indiana Latin, English

Illinois Wesleyan University 1918-19, 1921-22; Muncie Normal School '25; Phoenix 4; Classical Club 4; Girls' Debating Team 4; Y. W. C. A. 4. We have only known Louise for one year, but in that short length of time she has impressed us as a girl of nnnsual ability both as a student and as a debater.

ESTHER HARTSUCK Knightstown, Indiana Music, English

Madrigal 1-4; Mask and Mantle 2-4; Ye Anglican 3-4; Phoenix 2-4; Phoenix-Ionian Play 2-3; Student Council 3-4, Inter-Dorm 4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive 2-3; French Club 1-3; Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Executive 2-3; French Club 1-3; Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; Chairman Junior Social Committee 3; Sargasso Staff.

Esther is gifted with a striking personality and the ability to tackle anything from a coasting party to an all night seminar. There's life and fun wherever she is.

MYRIAM PAGE Dayton, Ohio

English, History

Dayton Normal School 1; Phoenix 1; French Club 1-2; Debate 4.

Beneath Myriam's quiet manner lies ability that approaches genius. She has already proved herself an author and some day we'll all say boastfully, 'Oh, yes, I went to college with her.'

Thomas Noland Richmond, Indiana
History, English

Day Dodger 1-2-4; Notre Dame 3; Football 1; Baseball 2.

Although he is a typical Day Dodger it has been rumored that he's ambidextrous and Celtic.

AGATHA PHELPS Richmond, Indiana Economics, History

Phoenix 4; Day Dodger 2-4; Science Club 4; Y. W. C. A. 4; Summer School '24-'25.

"Did you see Agatha climb the rope at the indoor meet?" That was the question that we beard many days after our first gym meet, and that is only one thing that she can do—you should see her drive in golf. ALWILDA OVERMAN Fairmount, Indiana English, Biblical Literature

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Polity 2-3; Church Extension 3; Forum 4.

It takes a clever person to be efficient and yet not be known by that characteristic; and to be idealistic and efficient is a combination desired by everyone. Alwilda is this, and more than that she is a real friend to all who know ber.

Walker Raiford Ivor, Virginia
Mathematics, Physics

Y. M. C. A. 1-4; Ioniau 1-4; Baseball 1-2, Captain 2; Science Club 4; Bundy Student Council 4.

You might as well expect the sun to stop rising as to expect to see Smiley without a grin. He is one of those rare examples where scholarship and athletic ability combine in one man.

Esther Patterson Springford, Indiana English, Home Economics

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-4; Classical 1-2; Home Economics Seminar 4.

Esther has a characteristic which we all envy, she has the ability to stick to a thing when many of us would be tempted to give up. She was one of the lucky few to get a high grade in Practice Teaching which is but another example of the spirit in which she undertakes a difficult thing.

Mary E. Blackburn New Vienna, Ohio English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3; Mask and Mantle 2-4; French Club 3-4; Anglican 3-4.

Mary is truly artistic. Besides some excellent work for Mask and Mantle she has written some of the loveliest poetry that Earlham has ever produced.

Esther Burk Swampscott, Mass. Bible, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 3-4; Class Vice-President 2, Secretary 4; Anglican 2-4; French Club 2-3, Secretary-Treasurer 3; Phoenix 2-3, Vice-President 2; College Forum, Executive Committee 4; Mask and Mantle 1-4, President 4; Sargasso Staff 4.

A genuine New Englander—refreshingly clever and original, delightfully frank and typically Bostonian in her accent! Her recent acquisition, long hair, does not interfere with her natural charm. loveliness, and independence, for which we have always known her.

Frances Alexander Richmond, Indiana
Mathematics, English

Day Dodger 2-4; Phoenix 2-4; Y. W. C. A. I-4; French Club 2.

The twinkle in Frances' eyes gives her away although she tries to be so dignified. She'll try anything once and succeed at it, too.

THELMA A. BALDWIN Amboy, Indiana
Home Economics, English

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Phoenix 1-2; French Club 1; Student Council 3-4, President 4; Inter-Dorm 4; Home Economics Seminar 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3; Sargasso Staff 4.

Dainty, charming and demure! Although she is "Prexy" to a large group, to many she is known as known as

"A perfect woman, nobly planned
To warn, to comfort and command."

Theodore S. Raiford Ivor, Virginia
Chemistry, Biology

Student Council 1; Glee Club I-4; Mask and Mantle 3-4; Press Club 3; President Student Body 3; Track I-4; Sargasso Business Manager; Honor Student.

Even Ted's list of activities does not in any way express the number of things he has done. He is capable, reliable, likeable, and all sorts of "ables." His talk creates for one a truly Virginian atmosphere.

MILDRED BARKER Thorntown, Indiana
Mathematics, Latin

Y. W. C. A. I-4; W. A. A. I-4; Phoenix 2-4; Classical Club 1-4, President 4.

Vague mutterings from room 261 any time from dawn until dawn. Mildred is studying Latin, but, judging from the frequent laughs it can't be so bad, and that is because Mildred enjoys everything she does—even practice teaching.

HUGH WALLACE Owensville, Indiana Biology, Chemistry

Glee Club 1-4; Press Club 2-4; Student Council 1; Class President 1; Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3-4; Mask and Mantle 4; EE 1-4, President 4; Track 1-3; Basketball 1-4, Captain 3-4.

Possessed of an unorthodox twinkle and a master in the art of being sociable, Hugh is universally liked. From all appearances we are inclined to believe that he is more at home on the basketball floor or in the labs than-in bed!

CLARICE VAN HOOK Anderson, Indiana Chemistry, Mathemotics

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Science Club 2-4.

Clarice might well have been taken for a model for W. T. Benda's illustrations. Her artistic appearance is seemingly no indication of her interests—for look at her majors! In spite of that, though, she really is interested in everything, scientific or otherwise.

LUCILLE TAUER Richmond, Indiana Home Economics, English

Day Dodger 1-4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Phoenix 2; Home Economics Seminar 4.

Although Lucille is taking a major in Home Economics she is keenly interested in chemistry and debating as well. She and Mary Louise have well been called the "inseparables" for we've hardly seen one without the other.

ELSIE TOMS

Milton, Indiana

English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive 4; French Club 1-2; Hockey Varsity 4.

Tommy is as vivacious and peppy as anyone could be. She is always ready for anything whether it is a jaunt across the country in a flivver or an all night cram for an exam.

MARCIA RACHEL RUSSELL Swarthmore, Pa. Euglish

Earlham 1, 4; Swarthmore 2-3; Science Club 1, Secretary 1; Madrigal 1, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 4; Phoenix 1.

Vivacious, friendly, capable, Marcia has taken her place in our class as if she had always been here. It is fascinating to hear of her unusual experiences and a privilege and an in-spiration to know her.

Russell C. Williams Kansas City, Mo. Mathematics, History

Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3-4; Glee Club 2-4, Cabinet 4; Orchestra 1-4, Cabinet 2; Science 1-2: Ionian 1; Sargasso Staff 4.

Russ might well be taken for the hero or even the dashing villian in any modern romance, but we are glad that he isn't because he's helped our class in many ways, especially in the musical

Marston Dean Hodgin Richmond, Indiana English, History

Press Club; Mask and Mantle 3-4; Anglican 3-4; Indiana University 2; Sargasso.

Marston spends his summers in artists' colonies and his winters taking prizes in his work. Besides being scenic artist for Mask and Mantle he finds time to write clever things and has the unique position of being a member of a "hanging committee,"

Esther V. Henby Greenfield, Indiana English, History

Anglican I-4; French Club J-2; Y. W. C. A. I-4, Cabinet 3-4; W. A. A. I-4, Executive 4; Sargasso Staff 4; Council 3; Inter-Dorm 3.

Esther has all the charm and grace of a heroine in an old-fashioned story. She has a rare appreciation of the beautiful and also the artistic skill to create beauty. But what we like best is her genuine sympathy and friendship for everyone about her.

Eleanor Henley Carthage, Indiana English, French

Y. W. C. A. 2-4; W. A. A. 2-4, President 4; Anglican 3-4; French Club 3; Madrigal 3-4, President 4; Mask and Mantle 4.

It isn't everyone who has the honor to be President of two important organizations and who can manage them as efficiently as Eleanor. Besides that she has time for athletics and dramatics, and to rank among the best students. In fact no one could be any more all around or have any more frierds.

Delite Hollett Russiaville, Indiana English, Home Economics

Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 4; Church Extension 1-3, President 2; Polity 1-2; Phoenix 1-4, President 4; Phoenix-Ionian Play Cast 2; Student Forum 4; Home Economics Seminar 4.

"Aw come on, let's do something rash!" and Delite appears on the scene to chase away your cares. Because she is true blue to everyone and has honesty and frankness which grow out of decided convictions and a keen perception, she has become a leader.

LOUCILLE I. HAGEMAN New Madison, Ohio English, Education

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; W. A. A. 1-4; Madrigal 3-4.

Loucille not only likes to have a good time herself but she is always helping others to have one, too; if you've ever been to one of her parties you'll know how true this is. But "Have" doesn't have a good time all the time, unless studying hard may be called one. She likes to get a lot out of everything and therefore she's a good student.

CLYDE C. HARNED Salem, Indiana
Mathematics, Economics

Western Yearly Meeting Group 1; French Club 4; Cross Country 4.

Because he doesn't shout it from the housetops does not prove that he has nothing to say. He is loyal, as any member of the Senior basketball team will testify.

I. Theodore Peters Friendsville, Tennesse Physics, Mathematics

Ionian 1-4, Vice-President 4; Student Council 3; Glee Club 3-4; Y. M. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3-4, President 4; Band 1-2; Church Extension 1-4; Science Club 4.

Ted's versatility is evidenced by the fact that he rose from the study of the trombone in his Freshman year to the presidency of the in his Senior year. His friendliness and general challenge with a popular with everyone.

HAZEL THORNBURG Winchester, Indiana English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Day Dodger 2; French Club 1-4; Forum 4; Student Council 3-4; Senior Social Committee 4.

Hazel is possessed of a poetic imagination, a delightful humor and an unorthodox philosophy of life. No wonder she produces refreshing ideas and creates delicate, colorful verse.

Wesler Scull Richmond, Indiana Chemistry, Biology

Band 1-4, Director 3-4; Ionian 3, President 3; Science Club 1-4, President 4; Mask and Mantle 3; Press Club 3; Demosthenen 4; Sargasso Staff, Editor-in-Chief; Class President 3; Day Dodger President 4.

Editor-in-Chief—yes; but that is only one of Wesler's extra-curricular sports. He is the fortunate possessor of a keen mind, an astounding Chevrolet conjectuate the most refreshing chuckle in capityide.

EDNA KENDALL Richmond, Indiana English, History

Y. W. C. A. 2-4; Day Dodger 1-4.

Edna has gennine ability and a refreshing sympathy for her fellowmen. She doesn't talk all the time, but when she does one feels that she has something worth saying.

VERNON SPAULDING Richmond, Indiana History, English

Glee Club 1-4; Basketball 1-4; Tennis 3-4; Football 1-3; Dad Dodger 1-4, President 3.

We don't know which is more characteristic of Vernon, his thatch of light hair or his brief-case. Excelling in tennis and basketball and playing in orchestras are only some of the many things with which Vernon occupies his leisure time!

ELIZABETH PETERS Friendsville, Tennessee English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4. Cabinet 4; Phoenix 1-2; Student Forum 4; Church Extension 1, 2, 3; Dixie Club 1-2; Summer School '25; W. A. A. 1-4.

Betty is one of the nicest people there are to know. She does not let the fact that she is a good student keep her from having time to enjoy her friends and to do things for them. She's a "Suthener" but has none of their slow charac-

HILDA MAE FARMER Richmond, Indiana Chemistry, English

Day Dodger 1-4; Phoenix 3-4; Earlham Trio 2-4; Science Club 4; French Club 2; Orchestra 4.

Hilda Mae always has a twinkle whether she is playing hockey or hunting an unknown in the lab. She has a lot of fun out of everything she does and is a rare mixture of artist and scientist.

Luella Masters Richmond, Indiana Music, Education

If you see a very petite, black-eyed, smiling miss, usually studying hard,—that's Lu, and it you hear some of her philosophical and witty remarks you realize that a girl cannot be judged by her size!

Willie Ann Gentry Spiceland, Indiana Botany, English

Student Affairs 2; W. A. A. 1-4, Executive Committee 4; Earlham Hall Student Council 2; Madrigal 1-2; Class Secretary 1; Y. W. C. A. 1-4, Cabinet 3.

Willie Ann's interests do not all lie in the realm of music as one is apt to gather from observation. We overheard a Freshman the other day and she said, "Willie Ann's a peach!" and that is the least we can say about her.

ISAAC DODDRIDGE Centerville, Indiana

History, Economics, Sociology

Isaac is one of those people who always have a solution for any problem. He finds time not only for his curricular duties but also to learn business through experience.

Bernice Ingram Richmond, Indiana

French, English

Phoenix 2-4; Y. W. C. A. 1-4; French Club 1-4. Bernice's dark hair is the envy of many of us, but it is by no means all of her charm. Her boyish frankness and love of doing something all the time have won her many friends.

all the time have won her many friends.

Merrill Hiatt Washington, D. C.

Mathematics, Economics

George Washington University 1; Y. M. C. A. 2-4; Student Council 2-3, Vice-President 2-3; Ionian 2-4; Anglican 4; Glee Club 4; Tennis Team 2-3, Captain 3, Manager 3; Quaker Quill Staff 4. College Social Committee 2-4; Spargasso Staff 4; College Social Committee 2-4; Spanish Club 2-3; "E" Club 2-4; Dxixe Club 2-3.

Either as a student or as a tennis player Merrill is a "capital" fellow. He has also been known to dip into politics, making occasional trips out to the Richmond "White House."

STANLEY GUYER West York, Illinois
History, Economics

Class President 2; State Peace Oratorical Contest 1; State Old Line Oratorical Contest 3; Debates 3; University of Wisconsin Law School 4; Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity 4.

7; FIR Alpha Delta Law Fraternity 4.

Stan is one of the best orators that Earlham has produced. Well do we remember his orating to us when we were Freshmen-and he the President of the Sophomore Class! With his friendly, likeable manner and his unusual personality Stan is bound to succeed. He may even be a second Webster.

URSEL McCoy Lafayette, Indiana English, History

French Club 1-2; Phoenix 1; Polity 1-3; Y. W. C. A. 1-3; Anglican 2, 3; Science Club 1-2; Freshman Social Committee.

Ursel finished her college course last summer. We wish she might have been with us this year, but she works while we take a vacation and is always ahead. Friendliness, sincerity, and a love of fou make her a charming personality.

Robert White Straughn, Indiana

Geology, German

Science Club 1-2; Ionian 2; Y. M. C. A. 1-4.

Bob is one case in which white can really be red. He is a regular spring of information for he can tell you anything from the wheel-base of a watch to the solution of the most difficult physics problem. MARY E. HAINES Carmel, Indiana English, History

Y. W. C. A. 1-4; Church Extension 2; Polity 1-2; W. A. A. Executive Committee 3; Phoenix 1-4, Secretary 3; Anglican 2.

Mary is one of those lucky people who find something to appreciate in everyone. She is a good student but does not let this keep her from having time to enjoy outside activities.

BENJAMIN AHL Centerville, Indiana Biology, Chemistry

Day Dodger 13; Freshman Class Treas; Mask and Mantle 1-3; Treasurer Sophomore Class; Football '23, '24; Glee Club 2-3; 'E'' Club 2-3, Treasurer 2; Swimming Team 2; Treasurer Junior Class; Student Affairs Board 3; Student Council 3; Indiana University 4.

S; indiana University 4. We were so used to having Ben take care of our business for us that we were quite lost when he left for I. C, anyhow he thinks old friends are best for he's coming back to graduate with us. As a business executive or a good sport, Ben is unexcelled.

Elizabeth Dillingham Auburn, N. Y.

Latin, English

Phoenix 1-4; Chairman of Literary Committee 4; Anglican 2-4; Polity 1-4; Classical 3-4; Vice-President 4.

Betty has a philosophy of life that persistently keeps her storm-tossed friends from sinking. No matter how complex we are, she can understand us. No matter how glaring our faults she digs below them and finds something to love and appreciate.

Marie M. Marshall Mooreland, Indiana
Mathematics, Education

Muncie Normal Institute; Indiana University; Earlham College.

Although we are proud that Marie chose our class as the one in which she wished to graduate, we wish we might have had the advantage of her real friendliness and sound judgment for the other years too.

Clarence Chase Richmond, Indiana Biology, History

Day Dodger Representative Student Council 4; Orchestra 3-4; Y. M. C. A. 3-4; Day Dodger 1-4.

If you hear the Bundy Hall rabble silenced by a jazzy syncopation you may know that Hal is at the piano. His music has helped to brighten many meals in the dining room. He is a good sort to know.

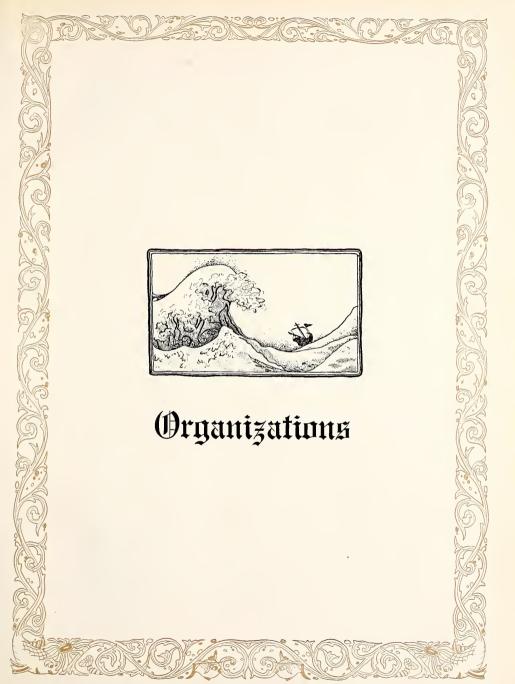

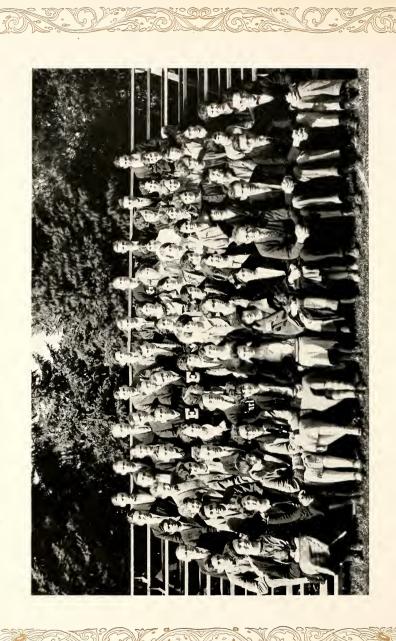

Through thine ivy latticed porches,
Laughing lads and golden girls
Pass to light their spirits' torches
At thy flame that glows and curls.
From thy light of Life and Learning
To the clouded world returning,
Back they bear their gorgeous burning—
Golden lads and laughing girls.

Earlham, from thine ivied porches, We thy sons shall pass and go, Bearing high thy golden torches Through the dark world to and fro.

E. MERRILL ROOT AND PHILIP FURNAS.

The Class of 1927

OFFICERS

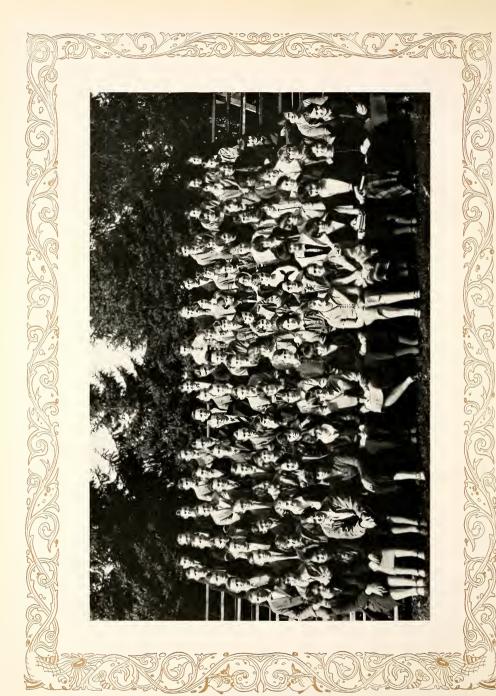

(With apologies to the reader.)

It's just a kind of stopping place
Between the earth and heavenly sphere,
A half-way station on the road—
The Junior year.

They've left behind their Freshman zest,
Their young enthusiasm, too,
Watched Sophomore dreams burst one by one
As bubbles do.

Ahead, they have not yet attained The dignity of Seniorship, Preparing for (our elders say) "Life's stormy trip."

POOR Juniors, they are a humble lot! Disillusioned—for one does become disillusioned even in college, wondering just how it is going to be different when once they arrive at that queer place "Out-in-Life." From this one would suppose that the Juniors are quite philosophical—they are. Furthermore, they are the ones on the campus who begin to take an interest in study. Freshmen are too excited, Sophomores too preoccupied, Seniors too busy to study, but the Junior cannot think up any new excuse, so in his humility he thinks he might as well do a little studying. In between classes the Juniors manage to keep our college running—edit the college paper, help win the intercollegiate debates, carry off the prizes for flowery oratory, and otherwise make themselves indispensable—or think they do. In spite of the fact that this account of their days has read like a dirge, they have a merry time of it, even if they do take themselves seriously.

Page sixty

OFFICERS

WILFRED JONES

President

KATHRYN MINARD

...Sccretary Treasurer

MARY JOHN EMBREE .. Chun Soc. Com.

(With elaborate apologies to Vachel Lindsay.)

First days of school
After Freshman Week
And onto the campus rides a Sophomore sheik,
A Sophomore sheik and then still more
Making their appearance and greeting old friends
Greeting old friends,
And not one forgetting that he is a Sophomore.
But over them hangs the impending doom,
Boomlay, boomlay, boomlay, boom.
Boomlay, boomlay, boomlay, boom!

LITTLE did they guess what was in store for them when they returned in all the glory of their recently acquired Sophomoreship. Immediately after registering they put their heads together and began to plan—and the gist of their deliberations was, "Revenge is sweet!" And when thereafter they met a Freshman on the campus, they repeated to themselves this pleasant refrain:

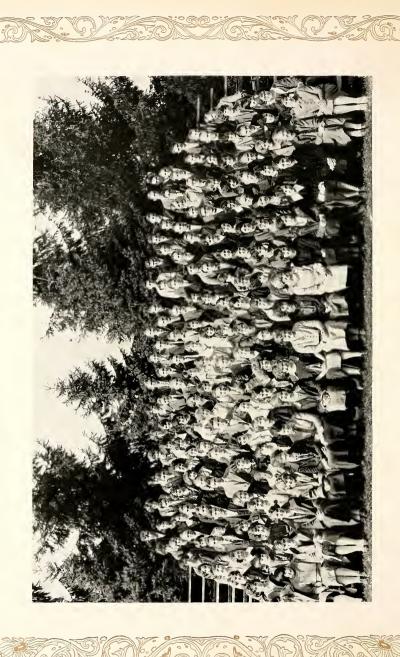

Beware, beware!
The precedent committee will hoodoo you,
The precedent committee will hoodoo you.
If you don't take care!
Beware!

(Recite with mysterious menace.)

But alas! The powers that be had already put their wise heads together and had come upon the astounding discovery that Freshmen have personalities! This led them to certain other conclusions which they hastened to impart to the astonished Sophomores. And then there came a countermelody to the Sophomore tune—sung this time by the faculty:

Sophomores, look to your Golden Rule, We won't have riots in our school. Be warned, be wise, be wise, beware. Or the faculty committee will hoodoo you, The faculty committee will hoodoo you, If you don't beware!

But do you think that daunted the energetic Sophomores? Not in the least, for they got busy and proved that second year students also have personality, and then carried off every conceivable honor.

OFFICERS

WILMER KENWORTHY President MARY LOWES Secretary
PAUL KAUPER Vice President Philip Hampton Treasurer
Frances Goodwin China, Soc. Com.

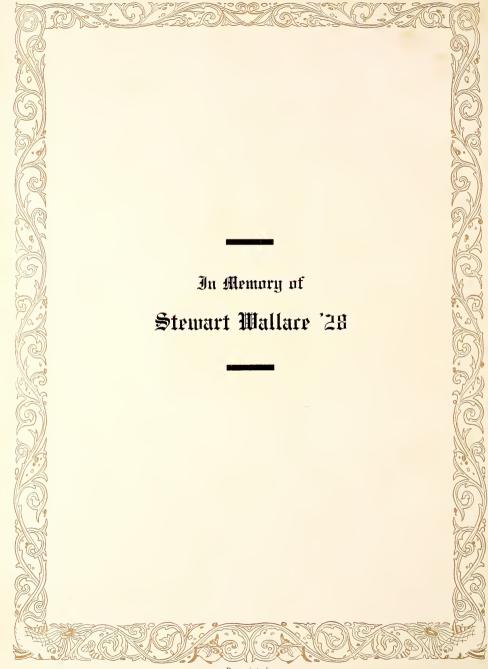

(With no more apologies-our last ones were not accepted.)

Nothing worries, nothing daunts them—
"Life is but a dream!"

Just this single thought that haunts them,
"School's a merry dream!"

When Professors scarcely pass them,
And psychologists try to class them,
When committees stern debuzz them,
None of it will even fuss them.
This they'll ask you if you quizz them
"Isn't it a scream?"

LAST fall they came by the scores from all the four corners of the world—from the south and from the north, with temperaments to match. Yet, when once they were duly enrolled and became officially known as Freshmen, their temperamental differences vanished and they took on certain common characteristics, faith, hope and—. What would we do without our Freshmen? When we become disillusioned and world-wise, a Freshman's hopeful smile will carry us back to the days of our own youth when we thought a college was the most wonderful place on earth. They have an abundance of faith and they need it! They still have their dreams—only to get over them, unfortunately. We do not grudge them their illusions, we only regret that these will be superseded by Sophomore Sophistication.

Activities

Organizations

The Student Affairs Board

OFFICERS

William Simkin	President	Lucile K. Johnson	Secretary
Ruth Buck	l'ice President	JOHN TAYLOR	. Treasurer

THE Student Affairs Association may not appear to the students as a very important organization, but should it once cease to function, its significance would at once be realized. It is the one organization on the campus around which all other activities revolve. By attending to all the business of the student group, regulating its activities, and keeping the machinery running smoothly, it spreads its interests into every phase of college life.

The representative body of the Association is the Student Affairs Board, which has both faculty and student members. Through this Board the interests of the college community are served. All athletic and public speaking events as well as other general college activities are sponsored by the Association's executive body. It also has charge of the general elections held each spring. Although the Board is never seen and rarely heard of, nevertheless the efficiency of Earlham student activities is due to its efforts.

Johnson Maxwell

Baldwin Huntsman

Hartsuck Parker

Inter-Bormitory Committee

OFFICERS

OWEN HUNTSMAN

President

EDWIN PARKER

Secretary

SINCE it is the ideal of organization to provide for every possible contingency, necessity demanded yet another branch of student government and in 1915 the first Inter-dormitory Committee was formed. Since then it has been a blessing in disguise; true, some maintain that they cannot see the blessing side of it, especially those who are the subject matter for its discussions. There are some students who, either from a super-abundance of energy or of time, wrack their brains for means of keeping the committee occupied. Occasionally, by a stroke of genius, the committee gives a verdict of poetic justice—turning the joke upon the jokers. When the three representatives from each of the Hall Councils gather together for a session, everyone begins to make a review of his or her "sins" wondering who the next one is to be.

Although the Committee is the subject of a great number of good-natured jokes, still it proves to be a very effective means for bringing about a realization of the importance of some of the campus rules. The student body may feel curiosity and amusement, but at the bottom it does essentially respect the laws of this committee of six as well as its fairly democratic verdicts.

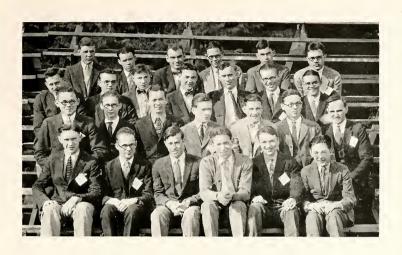

Phoenix Band

OFFICERS

FIRSI	SEMESTER		SECOND SEMESTER
MARY MAXWELL		President	DELITE HOLLETT Pro	sident
Francis Alexander		Secretary	MARY BINFORDSec	retary

ADAME President, may I have the services of the marshal?" "Madame President, may I walk across the floor?" In fact, Madame President graciously dispenses any number of both great and small favors. The first law of Phoenix is order and no matter how independent the individual members may feel outside, in Phoenix they are law-abiding. Extricating themselves from the intricate red-tape of Parliamentary procedure is a delightful game for members of the society—but not the only one.

Nowhere on the campus may one hear such lively debates, such learned discussions, or such delightfully varied programs as at Phoenix. Their range of entertainment is unlimited. From classical music or the reading of original manuscripts to a minstrel show or a mock trial—it all lies within the talents of the organization. Phoenix gave the student body a rare treat during the year by presenting Mr. Beriault, dramatic coach, at one of the chapel programs. Because of its wide scope of interests and the comradely atmosphere of its meetings, Phoenix is an organization to which any girl might profitably belong.

Ionian Literary Society

OFFICERS

FIRST SEMESTER	SECUND SEMESTER
CHARLES MAXWELL President	T. Lester Swander President
Walker Raiford	Ellis Satterthwaite Secretary

THEREFORE, gentlemen, we maintain that girls should bear half the expenses of a date." No, it is not the platform of a revolutionary society, but the decision of an Ionian debate. Throughout the week they may gallantly live up to their reputation of being "always true to maidens fair," but every Thursday these Earlham knights of chivalry seek the haven of Ionian where they dare to tell the truth! Not only that, but Ionian is the place where the men of the College are not afraid to be literary.

Though what goes on within the society is little known to outsiders, there are several annual Ionian-sponsored occasions which are a treat to the whole college. The annual Dads' Day was instituted by the society several years ago. This year the Phoenix-Ionian play, selected to be given on this occasion, was "The Goose Hangs High," by Lewis Beach. The activities of the society are not entirely literary but include various social functions as well. The annual banquet, which ends the society's calendar, is looked forward to by at least a part of the student body.

Kelsay McHatten Lamott Lamb Edmonson

Barker

Grant Scherer

Gennett Scull Marvity Randall

The Band

OFFICERS

George Scherer	President	JULIAN MAVITY	Librarian
JOHN KELSAY	Vice President	WILLIS BOGUE	Secretary
	Wesler Schil	Director

HE unenlightened, coming on the campus some evening during the week, I might ask, "What is that unearthly noise coming from that small wooden building over there?" To the student, however, the aforementioned sounds mean that the Band is practicing a new number for the next game or track meet. (Perhaps the Band is responsible for the fact that "our little wooden building" has been nick-named "the bandbox.") In the long run, it all goes to prove that we could not get along without the Band. It is as indispensable as the curriculum!

Several years ago there was no permanent, organized Band, but since its initial appearance, it has made up for lost time; for now it is not merely a Band -it is a musical organization. It is hard to imagine football or basketball without the Band. It fills in the silent places when we are either too excited to yell or too hoarse and exhausted even to speak. Furthermore, the members are not only useful but also ornamental, for in their maroon and white uniforms they look quite gay on the bleachers!

The Earlhamite Staff

OFFICERS

WHILE The Earthamite in its present form and purpose does not coincide with the original paper of that name, which has undergone various alterations, it still remains the oldest college paper in the state of Indiana. In 1853, fifty-two years ago last fall, the Ionian Literary Society, recognizing the need for a college paper, established The Earthamite. It served as a news and literary paper, with alumni features. In 1894 it combined with The Phoenician, which the women had organized a few years before, thus making The Earthamite a co-ed paper.

Between 1914 and 1919 the paper was not published. With this one interruption, The Earlhamite has been issued over a period of more than half a century. In 1919 the Alumni and Old Students' Union revived the periodical as its official organ. Last year it again became a student publication under the management of both Phoenix and Ionian.

It is the purpose of the paper to carry college news to graduates and former students, but during the period of reorganization of the weekly publication of the College before the appearance of The Quaker Quill, this small paper became a welcome source of news to the student body as well as to alumni. It is now issued quarterly and may well be looked upon as a pioneer of the Middle West.

Science Club

OFFICERS

Wesler Scull President John Furnas Treasurer
Caroline Miles Secretary

O matter what it is that you desire, whether it is enlightenment on the chemistry of hormones, a short course in astronomy, tea, the ecology of peat bogs, or a trip through Yellowstone, you can get it all at Science Club—especially the tea. This year, as never before, the activities of the Science Club have been both varied and instructive. At the beginning of the year it was decided that departmental teas would be very beneficial in bringing together the students with a major in one science and, at the same time, helpful in arousing a greater degree of friendliness among the various branches of science. Through the interest of Miss Reed the Biology department gave the first teas, which were followed by delightful lectures on various phases of biological thought. The Chemistry department followed suit, so that by the second semester there were virtually three science meetings a month—the regular club meeting and two departmental teas.

None of the meetings were limited to science students alone, but were open to all those who were interested. The idea of making the curriculum an outside activity proved so popular that other departments on the campus adopted the innovation and occasionally served four-o'clock tea to stimulate thought.

Fatherley, Henley, Hartsuck, Parker, Blackburn, Cowperthwaite, Carr Brenneman, Loofbourrow, Bartel, Evans, Furnas, Henby

Anglican Club

OFFICERS

"I T is not dead but liveth." Shrouded in the memories of what other distinguished Anglican Clubs had done in previous years, Ye Anglican of 1925-26 settled back in a deep grave during the first semester. But after a few months of almost dreamless sleeping, it received from Miss Davis a practical punch which resulted in its constitution. At Christmas time Anglican's gaily trimmed tree in the Students' Parlor reminded us of plum puddings, holly and mistletoe. But as far as enlivening the organization was concerned, the Christmas tree seemed nothing more than flowers on the grave of the dead. Then Professor Root chanted some magic lines over the sleeping one, and on February 3, 1926, a group of those who were interested in literary pursuits met with Professor Root to discuss modern poetry. After such a resurrection enthusiasm ran high, the sleeper arose and busied itself about its literary functions. The study of various literary forms and the publication of "Ye Anglican" left no more time for dreaming the remainder of the year.

Mason L. Hollett

Beals Smith

Kimmel McCoy Binns

Marshall Osborne Patterson

Baldwin Tauer D. Hollett

Home Economics Seminar

OFFICERS

THE Home Economics Seminar has been known as an organization only since 1925. It was organized by Francis Evans and Edith Meredith, who were seniors of that year. It is the object of the Seminar to promote a deeper interest among the girls taking courses in Home Economics and to keep in touch with the graduates and underclassmen in that department. The membership includes instructors and all Junior and Senior girls who are taking majors or minors in Home Ec.

During the second semester the Seminar held regular monthly meetings at which topics of interest to the members were discussed and, very frequently, delicious refreshments were served. Besides the meetings various activities were promoted. One of the outstanding features was the sponsoring of an exhibit in the Home Ec. laboratory. The exhibit displayed the work which is done in the department. The crowd which visited the display bore witness to its success.

Farris K. Parker King Spaulding Huntsman Wallace J. Parker

Double E Club

OFFICERS

Hugh Wallace President John Parker Secretary-Treasurer

THE one thing to which every young athlete aspires upon entering Earlham is membership in that holy of holies of Earlham athletics—the Double E Club. When once he gets in, the honor is all the greater because he had to train, practice, play in long gruelling games, and through it all run the risk of missing his chance for membership in the end. What the laurel wreath was to the Greek, that the Double E Club is to the Earlham man—and as great is his meed of honor.

The club includes all those men who have won an E in two or more branches of sport, one of which must have been foot-ball or basket-ball. After a member once passes the ingenious initiation, he becomes one of the elite and has the privilege of the numerous and delightful social events which are sponsored by the club.

Kenneth Farris Football and Baseball
Owen Huntsman Football, Baseball, Basketball, and Track
Ralph King Basketball and Baseball
John Parker Football and Track
Kenneth Parker Football and Track
Vernon Spaulding Football, Basketball, Baseball, and Tennis
Hugh Wallace Basketball and Track

Earlham Hall Student Council

OFFICERS

THELMA BALDWIN	President	Virginia Cook	Secretary
ESTHER HARTSUCK	Vice-President	Lucile K. Johnson	Treasurer

THE Earlham Hall Student Council, as the executive, legislative, and judicial body of the Student Government Association of Earlham Hall, has as its aim, "to develop among the women the spirit of coöperation and the sense of individual and group responsibility." The Council seeks to realize this aim, not only through judiciary decisions and "laying down the law," but also through sponsoring certain types of entertainment and social activity such as the annual Hall Parties, Open House, and Student Chapel. The council members believe that by promoting harmony and happiness in such a manner, a sense of civic responsibility is also fostered.

Although the Council finds it difficult to cope with all the "individuality and ingenuity" in Earlham Hall residents, still it succeeds admirably in preserving the unity and harmony so essential to civic happiness. It is not, as is so often supposed, an organization of the long-faced, but a body of girls who have the best interests of the college at heart.

Swander, Parker, Wildman, Maxwell, Jones, Rogers, Catlin, Chase, Huntsman, W. Raiford, Sharp

Bundy Hall Student Council

OFFICERS

OWEN HUNTSMAN

President

EDWIN PARKER

L'ice-President

Ioseph Rogers . . . Secretary-Treasurer

T would seem that with all the various judiciary bodies which we have on the campus we might be induced to be good, but, as a matter of fact, human nature is such (especially young human nature) that it hates to deprive any organization of its proper function; consequently all the verdict-giving committees seem to be at all times sufficiently occupied. Oh, we assure you, it's not that we are essentially bad—it's simply that (as our indulgent elders put it) "boys will be boys." So it is that, in order to keep peace and good-will in Bundy, the Student Council is elected to take charge of unruly spirits.

It has been the aim of the Bundy Council to be as just in its decrees and as democratic in its legislation as is humanly possible. They do not always take into consideration merely the present contingency, but strive as well to look to the effect on the future. Because of their ability to enter into little matters of college discipline with sympathetic understanding, they have been able to build up a student government which is at once respected and effective.

Spanish Club

OFFICERS

MARYALICE KELSO

President Henry Fox Secretary-Treasurer
Margaret Griffen .. Chun. Program Com.

STUDYING the literature, language, and temperament of Spain involves so much more time than can possibly be included in the curriculum that the students of Spanish are quite willing to attend the monthly meetings of their club. In these meetings away from the constraints of the class-room, they take a genuine pleasure in getting acquainted with the interesting people of the little European nation. The history of Spain has been so colorful and romantically varied that the club finds little difficulty in getting material for study—from Spanish music to Spanish jest.

The student body has had the privilege this year to see in chapel the club's delightfully sympathetic and understanding presentation of an episode from the life of that world-famous cavalier—"Don Qnixote." Their excellent interpretation proved that the members not only get a wider knowledge of Spanish literature, but also a glimpse into Spanish life—all the more so since Miss McCoy has been able to bring back to the club some of the real atmosphere of the southern nation from her summer's trip abroad. With such opportunities and such a scope, the meetings should be as instructive, entertaining, and exciting as a monthly excursion to a Spanish fiesta or the Alhambran courts.

French Club

OFFICERS

FIRST SEMESTER	SECOND SEMESTER
MARY ALICE COLLINS President	MARY ALICE COLLINS President
Cora Ricker Secretary-Treasurer	RUTH BENNETT Secretary
FLORENCE OSBORNE Chmn. Social Com.	CAROLYN BARTEL Chmn, Social Com.

AVE you ever wondered what Paris sounds like on market days? If you have a keen sense of curiosity, tiptoe around to the Association room some night when the French Club is having a meeting—they sound like the real thing, when they put their mind to it. Now it is a French song, now a poem; now a French joke (whose point, unfortunately, is lost on us.) Perhaps they will give a play and, if they are thoughtful enough to give us a synopsis beforehand, we get something out of it—if not, we don't—it sounds so dreadfully French!

They do not confine all their time to the pursuit of French glibness, however, for they are also fond of ordinary, Yankee camp-suppers and other social affairs. For that reason their meetings are often a mixture of literary programs and socials though Miss Pick finds the men very Quakerish and shy. "I just can't make them sit with the girls!"

The club gave a delightful student chapel, when the members presented "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife." The acting was excellent and the French like an endurance contest! And the dumb wife won it.

Hartsuck, Evans, Peters, Edwards, Jarra, Cowperthwaite, Charles, Mason, Clark, Henby, McCoy, D. Hollett, Furnas, Kimmel, Hester

y. W. C. A.

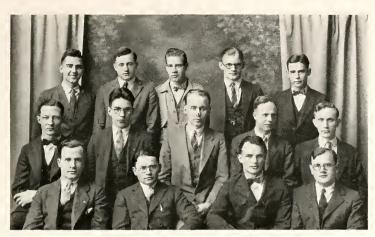

OFFICERS

Mary Clark President Lois Edwards Secretary
Irene Jarra Treasurer Ruth Henby Undergraduate Representative

THE Y. W. C. A. of Earlham challenges every girl on the campus to live Jesus' law of love in every relationship of life. Membership is open to all girls in the college, and Y. W. tries from the very beginning to interest them in active committee work.

It was a Y. W. girl who wrote you a letter of welcome the summer before you entered college; it was a Y. W. girl who met you at the train on that memorable "first day"; it was Y. W. that planned the camp supper during your first week to help all girls to get acquainted. A good time, however, is not all that the Y. W. stands for.

Our Y. W. arranges for Thursday morning meetings led by girls, and cooperates with Y. M. in planning for Sunday evening Association Meetings, usually led by students, also. Our Y. W. is not only locally active, but it is connected with the national association and through it brings secretaries to our campus. Each summer Y. W. arranges for a group of girls to spend a glorious ten days at the summer conference at Lake Geneva from which they bring back great enthusiasm and inspiration to the less fortunate who cannot go. It is the highest aim of Y. W. so to permeate the life of each Earlham girl that she shall go out, a senior, with a real desire to live life at its best.

Fatherley Killiams Rogers Fatherley Williams Rogers Forest Pickett Livezey

Ų. M. C. A.

OFFICERS

THEODORE PETERS President EDWIN PARKER Secretary
WILLIAM LIVEZEY Vice-President WILLIAM SIMKIN Treasurer

THERE are many things forever happening on a college campus—big and little, important and unimportant, pleasant and otherwise—yet all of them demand attention and some organization there must be to take care of them. Some of these duties arise unexpectedly, some are inherited tasks. A few of the inherited duties of the Y. M. C. A. of Earlham are publication, in coöperation with the Y. W. C. A., of the Freshman Handbook; assisting in the orientation of Freshmen at their entrance and also during the year; directing all student work of a religious nature; and maintaining a student employment bureau.

It is the purpose and desire of the Y. M. C. A. to hold up continuously before the students, in as many ways as possible, the ideal of the Christian life and to help make that life practicable for all. The executive work of the organization is carried on by the cabinet, which is chosen each year from the membership.

Through coöperation with the local Association of Richmond, membership in the Earlham Y. M. has included more privileges this year than ever before. The meaning, in a spiritual sense, of the Earlham Y. M. depends, as in any other Christian Association, upon the seriousness with which each individual takes his responsibility as a member.

Loofbourrow, Hoke, Boren, Ketring, Swain, Thornburg, Moyer, Vernon, White, Goodwin, Miller, Newlin, Charles, M. Barker, Hubbard, Taylor, H. Barker

The Classical Club

OFFICERS

MILDRED BARKER President ELIZABETH DILLINGHAM Vice-President

MARTHA BOREN Secretary-Treasurer

SOME souls there are on this campus of ours, who cannot delve deeply enough into the lore of ancient Greece and Rome in classes. It is for such that the Classical Club was organized—that they might make monthly excursions into those lands of far-away and long-ago, where heroes were thrillingly and gorgeously brave, and the Nine Muses flourished unabashed and unrivalled by their modern impressionistic sisters. Theirs is a deep delight in that which was best and most beautiful in the past—no wonder then that they are convinced that "the former days were better than these!"

Their meetings are a mingling of fun and literary pursuit, for, aside from studying the life and literature of the ancients, they occasionally play at being Romans or celebrate in true Roman style the birthday of some favorite poet. Furthermore, they are not in the least selfish with their literary "finds," for seldom has the student body been more deeply stirred than it was by the Classical Club's presentation of the Nativity at Christmas time.

Copeland, Taylor, Hiatt, Fatherley, E. Parker, Allen, Osborne, Carr, Stottlemeyer, Livezey, Hester, Bartel

Quaker Quill Staff

OFFICERS

EARLE CARR

.Editor-in-Chief

DAVID COPELAND

Business Manager

Associate Editors
Evangeline Stottlemeyer W

William Livezey

WITH the passing of The Earlham Press of former years, there arose on the campus a need for a new organization which would handle the publication of college news. In the autumn of 1925 it was voted by the student body that the policies of this new organization be completely planned by a committee of students and faculty. After very careful deliberation and consideration, which lasted for several weeks, the committee submitted the new constitution for approval by the student body. This constitution was voted on and ratified. Then followed the selection of a name for the new paper and a prize of ten dollars was offered for the best suggestion. "The Quaker Quill," suggested by Miss Cundiff, was chosen by the students from a large number of names submitted.

Nominations for the staff and board of control were made, and the first staff elected. Later, competitive try-outs were held for the positions of reporters, and the organization was complete. The first issue of the paper appeared during the first week of the second semester and has since then very efficiently taken the place of the older publication.

Druley, Hartsuck, Stauber, Sittloh, Hubbard, Porter, Ashworth, Sevringhaus Director, Ricker, Russell, Minard, Bundy, Humphreys, Meloy, L. Johnson, Cox, E. Johnson, Fisher, Harold, Henley, Painter

Madrigal Club

OFFICERS

ELEANOR HENLEY	President	ALICE BUNDY	Secretary-Treasurer
Marjory Harold	Business Manager	Miss Sevringhaus
	Lucile Johnson .	Accompanist

NDER the enthusiastic direction of Miss Sevringhaus the Madrigal Club has shown remarkable progress during the past two years. Its repertoire has been greatly enlarged through the most persistent and untiring practice. During the year the club made several short but successful trips offering varied musical programs of club numbers and vocal and instrumental solos. Through these trips the club hoped to take to the various cities a part of Earlham and its work.

As a home concert the girls planned an Oriental Costume Recital which required intensive work on the part of the entire club. A great deal of time and energy is given during a year by the members of the organization: just how much is scarcely realized, when one listens at chapel or at a concert to the lovely programs arranged by the club. Nevertheless, the Madrigal Club is one of the oldest and most popular organizations on the campus. Every girl who has the least singing ability hopes some day to pass a successful tryout for Madrigal, while the rest of us hope the girls will sing a generous number of times in chapel and when they do we keep wishing they would not stop singing.

Peacock, Raiford, Hampton, Peters, Kemp, Ewing, Hole, Spaulding Williams, Stamper, Starn, Ott, Stanley, Cook, Lamb, Carter, Smith Prof. Lehman, Kenworthy, Iliatt, Kelsay, Bedford, Shaffer, Partington, Krueger

Glee Club

OFFICERS

RALPH EWING	VERNON SPAULDING Chmn. Social Con
RUSSELL WILLIAMS Secretary-Treasurer	RALPH STANLEY Asst. Bus. Mg
Prof I FHMAN	Director

BIRDS of a feather flock together," hence, those who have a suppressed desire to sing needs must get together and release it, else woe unto the rest of us! Be that as it may, one of the most popular organizations on the campus is the Glee Club, not only for its generosity in dispensing heavenly harmonies, but also because it is a club which means a great deal to the members—so much so that they are willing to put in hours of faithful practice in order to keep up the high standards which have been set before them by Professor Lehman. This year the type of music sung by the club has been unusually good.

Although the club was not able to make arrangements for so extensive a trip as was made by the organization last year, because of the enormous expense of such a trip, several shorter concert tours were planned during the year. A longer tour was made in the spring vacation including in its scope several of the smaller towns in the vicinity and ending in Chicago. The Glee Club, through such trips as it makes into other communities, proves to be a means of advertisement of the best type for the college. The men represent to people outside one of the worthiest activities on the campus.

College Forum

Lester Swander. Chairman

A T the beginning of the year the heads of several organizations met and decided that, since their interests overlapped, they might as well save energy and keep from overorganizing and dividing too widely the interests of the college, by combining. The groups that consolidated were the Church Extension Group, Student Volunteers, Polity Club, and Mission Study Group, in coöperation with the World Fellowship committees of Y. M. and Y. W. It seemed to the students who sponsored this move that it would be the logical way to get all the individuals interested in world affairs into one group and in such a way achieve the most good. When the plan became quite popular, it was decided to make the new organization an open discussion group—a place where the students of the college might freely express themselves, hence it was called the College Forum.

The Forum held a number of meetings during the year, at which times there was either a special speaker who spoke on some phase of international relations, or else topics for discussion were suggested beforehand and both students and faculty expressed themselves. Among the various topics discussed were the interracial problem, examinations, and social life at Earlham.

Afterword

WELL, there it is, the section you had looked for. If you don't like what we had to say about you, it may be due to one of two things—either there wasn't much to say (which, of course, is not it at all!) or else we grossly underestimated your virtues. But then, you know, editors are proverbially short-sighted. We wept over you, and laughed over you, and—and here you are. As the poet said:

"Oh wad some power the giftie gie us To see oursels as ithers see us."

Mercy no! We don't pretend to be said power.

Public Speaking
and Dramatics

Applegate, Satterthwaite, Professor Trueblood, Carr, Copeland Hoke, McGraw, Lawless, Wissler, Minnick, Page Stanley, Scherer, Livezey, Shaffer, Scull

The Demostheneans

OFFICERS

Leslie Shaffer

President

George Scherer.

Secretary-Treasurer

In 1921 it was decided that those who earnestly endeavor to solve all the world ills by their convincing oratory should be organized for this most worthy purpose, and from this arose the club of Demostheneans. Although they do not go to the same lengths as the ancient orator, such as practicing before a mirror or reciting with a mouth full of pebbles, or shouting above the roar of the ocean, still those who qualify for membership in the club do have to spend a great deal of precious time and energy at becoming oratorical. The winners of the extempore contests and students who represent the college in intercollegiate oratorical contests are eligible for membership. Since Earlham has had a women's debating team this year women have been admitted to the club.

The most unique feature of this year's activities of the club was the debate with Cambridge, England, on the question: "Resolved that this house pities its grandchildren." In addition to this there were several other debates with Wittenberg, Butler, Notre Dame, and other colleges with the result that four debates were won and two lost. This standing placed Earlham once again at the head of the Indiana Intercollegiate Debating League which has a membership of fourteen colleges and universities.

Satterthwaite, Livezey, Kauper, Shaffer Stanley, Carr, Coach E. P. Trueblood, Copeland, Scherer

Intercollegiate Debates

AFFIRMATIVE

NEGATIVE

DAVID J. COFELAND GEORGE SCHERER LESLIE SHAFFER PAUL KAUPER EARLE CARR WILLIAM LIVEZEY
WENDELL STANLEY ELLIS SATTERTHWAITE

THE same persistent enthusiasm and encouragement of Professor Trueblood that has inspired former representatives of Earlham in intercollegiate debating to establish an enviable reputation, has inspired the teams of this year to add to the stability of the record. As a member of the Indiana Intercollegiate Debating League, Earlham's debaters engaged in three triangular contests. The subject of debate was: "Resolved, that the pending Child Labor Amendment be adopted." In the first contest the Earlham affirmative team won the judge's decision from Butler while the negative team lost to Wabash. In the second debate the affirmative and negative teams received the judges' decision from both Franklin and Wabash. The affirmative team won from Indiana Central and the negative team lost to Taylor in the last debate. These debaters also met teams not members of the league in preliminary contests, two from Wittenberg and one from Heidelberg.

Old Line Oratorical Contest

Earlham College speaking on the subject "Nordic Opportunity" in the thirty-fourth State Oratorical Contest held at North Manchester College on February 12th. The Indiana State Oratorical Association sponsored this contest to determine a representative for Indiana in the Interstate Contest between representatives from ten central and midwestern states. Mr. Carr was awarded fourth place in the contest. Maurice Robinson of Wabash College, the winner, took first place in the interstate contest.

In his production Mr. Carr said, "The Locarno Conference represents the dawn of a new era in international politics. The spirit of Locarno should be the guiding principle in the solution of the problems that arise in the relations of the Western World with the nations of the East."

In the home contest held on December 14th, Leslie Shaffer, '26, was awarded second place. The other speakers were George Scherer, '27, Paul Kauper, '29, Rufus Ayres, '28, and Hadley Haworth, '26.

Fall Extempore

S PEAKING on the subject, "The Meaning of Locarno," in the fall extempore contest, Earle Carr, '27, won the privilege of having his name engraved on the Extempore Cup. Arnold Vaught, '26, was awarded second place. The other speakers were Theodore Peters, '26, Lester Swander, '26, and Ellis Satterthwaite, '27.

Peace Contest

THE Peace Oratorical Contest holds a prominent place in the public speaking events of Earlham. The winners of the local contests have established an enviable record, having won first place in nine of the fifteen state contests. The winners of the state contest are permitted to enter their orations in the national contest to be judged on the basis of composition. This year George Scherer, '27, representing Earlham in the state event at Purdue University on April 23, with an oration entitled "True Patriotism" was awarded fourth place.

In his oration Mr. Scherer said, "The idea of 'my country right or wrong' is obsolete. We need a feeling of friendship for the peoples of the remotest parts of the earth. We get what we want, not by violence but by coöperation. May we say my country with yours for the peace of mankind."

In the local contest held April 9, Wilfred Jones, '28, was given second place. The other speakers of the evening were Russell Rees, '29, Lester Swander, '26, Hadley Haworth, '26, Paul Kauper, '29, and Rufus Ayres, '28,

National Constitutional Contest

E ARLE W. CARR represented Earlham College and the State of Indiana in the central states finals in the National Constitutional Contest held at the College of the City of Detroit on May 18. The subject of Mr. Carr's oration was "Marshall and the Constitution." He was awarded third place. Mr. Philip Krasme, representing the University of Michigan, awarded first place, is to represent the central states in the final contest to be held at Los Angeles, California.

Cambridge Debate

N October 14th an Earlham debating team met a team from Cambridge University, England, in Earlham's first international debate. An interested audience filled the Morton High School Auditorium. The subject discussed was "Resolved, that this house pities its grandchildren." The Cambridge debaters presented the affirmative side of the question with the delightful persuasive manner of English speakers, while the Earlham debaters advanced the negative position of the resolution with the more formal method characteristic of most American debating. President David M. Edwards welcomed the Cambridge team and the Hon. William Dudley Foulke presided over the discussion. The decision rendered by the audience was a tie.

Earlham was fortunate in having the pleasant opportunity to welcome the Cambridge representatives to the campus and exchange ideas with them.

The Cambridge team was represented by Micheal Ramsay, Geoffrey Lloyd, and Patrick Devlin. The Earlham debaters were Earle Carr, Wesler Scull, and Ward Applegate.

Momen's Debate

WOMEN for the first time in seventeen years represented Earlham in intercollegiate debate in a dual contest with Indiana Central College on February 5th. The question discussed was "Resolved, that the teaching of the Bible should be included in the curriculum of the public schools of the State of Indiana." Earlham's affirmative team, represented by Myriam Page, Mary Minnick, and Louise Hoke, presented its case to an audience in the Trueblood Indoor Field. Mrs. David M. Edwards acted as the presiding officer. The Earlham negative team, represented by Eleanor Wissler, Genevieve Lawless, and Eunice McGraw, presented its case at Indiana Central College at Indianapolis. In both contests the negative team won the decision of the judges. It is expected that the interest of women in public speaking will continue, and result in the permanent establishment of intercollegiate contests.

Mask and Mantle

OFFICERS

MASK and Mantle is an organization which strives not only to present plays of the highest type in order to maintain and increase interest in drama among the students but also to give to its members some experience in the art of producing. The basis for membership is, therefore, ability either in acting or in the technique of production. During the past year the club has attempted to contribute to the social life of the college by presenting at frequent intervals one-act plays or groups of one-act plays.

Much credit is due to the director, Mrs. H. R. Robinson, who has maintained in the club the high standards for which Mask and Mantle is noted, namely, to give the best in the best possible manner.

The plays presented this year were: "Two Slatterns and a King" by Edna St. Vincent Millay, and "White Elephants" by Kenyon Nicholson. These plays were given as a part of the entertainment on Homecoming Day. At Christmas time a play "Why the Chimes Rang" was very effectively presented. In March the club gave a program of three one-act plays which included "Lima Beans," a delightful puppet-play by Kreymborg.

Mask and Mantle Plays

The final event of the Homecoming program was the presentation of two plays:

TWO SLATTERNS AND A KING

By Edna St. Vincent Millay

Slut Esther Hartsuck King John Allen
Tody Eleanor Henley Chance Wilmer Kenworthy

WHITE ELEPHANTS

By Kenyon Nicholson

Husband Hugh Wallace Thief Franklin Raymond Wife Carolyn Bartel His wife Helen Brenneman

A Christmas program was presented just before the Christmas vacation:

WHY THE CHIMES RANG

Uncle Bertel Robert Fatherly Holgen John Furnas
Old Woman Mary Blackburn Steen Naomi Furnas
Angel Ann Saylor

PUPPET STAGE

Three one-act plays were presented on March 13th:

LIMA BEANS

By A. Kreymbourg

The Wife....Lucille Loofbourrow The Husband..Wilmer Kenworthy The Huckster.....Stanley Barker

Elmer Porter and Marston Hodgin produced the stage and puppets.

EVER YOUNG

By A. Gerstenberg

Mrs. Poindexter......Olive Charles
Mrs. Courtney-Page, Helen Brenneman
Mrs. Blanchard...Mary Lane Charles
Mrs. Dorchester......Esther Burk

A NIGHT IN AN INN

By Lord Dunsany

Dinsmore, Hoke, Glasgow, Thomas, Russell, Mason Grant, Allen, Holthouse, Miser Osbourne, Coach Milner, Peters, Binford

Annual Phoenix-Ionian Play

 P^{HOENIX} and Ionian Literary Societies presented their annual play as a feature of the "Parents' Day" program, April 24th.

THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH

By Lewis Beach

By Lewis Beach
Bernard Ingalls	John Allen
Eunice Ingalls	Jane Thomas
Noel Derby	Theodore Peters
Leo Day
Julia Murdock	Elizabeth Dinsmore
Ronald Murdock	Kenneth Binford
Mrs. Bradley	Louise Hoke
Hugh Ingalls	Hugh Grant
Lois Ingalls	Frances Glasgow
Bradley Ingalls	Robert Miser
Dagmar Carroll
Rhoda	Mary Mason
Elliott Kimberly	Howard Holthouse

Day Students

OFFICERS

Wesler Scull....

President

DORIS WEESNER

L'ice-President

Hugh Grant Treasurer

7 THY they should be called Day Dodgers is rather a puzzle for they certainly do not dodge the light of day—rather, that is when they are most in evidence. Nevertheless, their evanescent character must have quite impressed itself upon the student body since every now and then some magnanimous announcement will state that "the invitation is for everybody, including Day Dodgers and Faculty." It is well that the Faculty and the Day Dodgers are good natured!

When one looks over the lists of membership of the various organizations and peruses the honor roll carefully, no doubt remains as to the activities of Day Dodgers for they are "included" everywhere in goodly numbers.

This year the organization put on an excellent presentation of "Babs" by Mary Roberts Rinehart. The characters were splendidly interpreted by the cast which was coached by Professor Beriault. The cast included the following:

Lelia Archibald, Ruth Painter Hannah.....Mary Hubbard Mrs. Archibald, Esther Stegall WilliamElmer Porter Carter Brooks, William Webb Babs Norma Melov James Archibald. . John Jones Jane Raleigh, Genevieve Lawless Clinton Beresford.

Hugh Grant

Eddie Perkins.

Dudley Woodman Guv Grosvenor,

Walter Reinhard

Commencement Week Plays

Mask and Mantle Club Play

THE Mask and Mantle Club presented "The Youngest" by Phillip Barry on June 11th, at the Dennis Junior High School Auditorium.

THE CAST

Mrs. Winslow Eleanor Johnson
Oliver WinslowFranklin Raymond
Mark Winslow
Martha Winslow
Richard Winslow Francis Robinson
Nancy Blake Eleanor Henley
Augusta Winslow Martin Esther Hartsuck
Allan Martin
Katie Anne Saylor

Senior Class Play

THE Senior Class presented "The Melting Pot" by Israel Zangwill on June 12th at the Dennis Junior High School Auditorium.

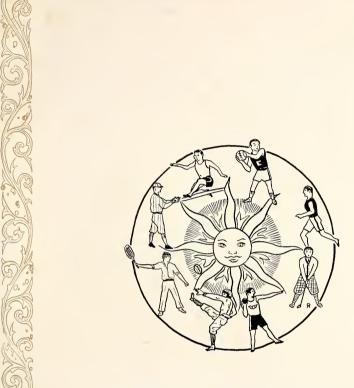

THE CAST

Frau QuixanoMyriam Page
Mendel Quixano
David Quixano Leslie Shaffer
Vera RevendaleOlive Charles
Baron Revendale
Baroness Revendale
Kathleen O'Reilley Esther Stegall
Quincey Davenport, Jr
Herr Papplemeister

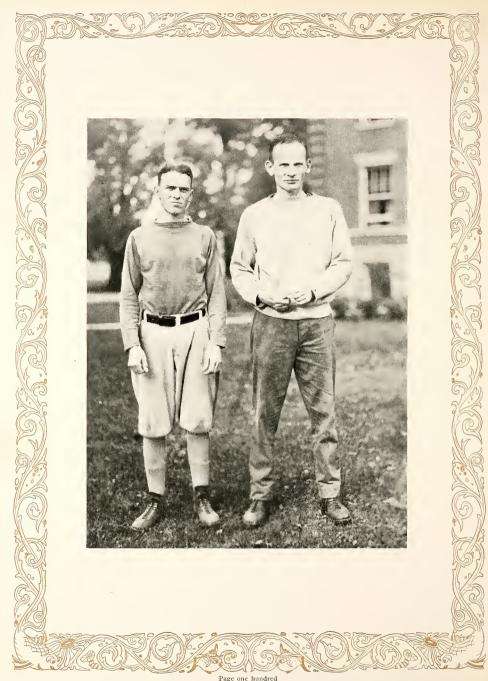

Athletics

Men's Athletics

The Coaches

A THLETIC efforts at Earlham College have met with varied degrees of success during the past. At times the teams have been of such calibre as to be recognized among the leaders of the middle-west, while other years have seen them sink into almost complete oblivion. This fluctuation is not due to the ability of the coaches, for at all times the administration has been careful to secure the highest type of men for the position. In the main it is due to the material which the coaches have to work with, combined with their own individual knowledge and leadership.

Mr. Melvin O. Ross and Mr. Lawrence B. Maplesden came to Earlham in the fall of 1924. With the resignation of Coach Norman G. Wann in the spring of 1925, Mr. Ross was given the leadership of football and track, while the reins of basketball, baseball, and tennis, were placed in the hands of Mr. Maplesden. The confidence placed in them by the college authorities as well as the whole college community has been vindicated. Much credit is due the fellows but too much cannot be said of the way in which the coaches have handled the situation.

Coaching is a mere sideline with Mr. Ross. His strong point is Business and Economics, but regardless of this fact he goes about his athletic duties with a straightforward and sincere manner. He is a man of sterling character and at all times strives to play the game clean and square. He has been a great asset to the campus and as long as he is in our ranks we know that our athletics are in safe hands.

Mr. Maplesden, too, is a man to be proud of. Taking hold of intramural athletics he has placed them on a high level. Competition and class support are keen. With such a thing as this taking place within the walls of Earlham the standard of the student body is automatically raised. "Mape" has lived up to the ideals of the college and he will always be to us a gentleman and a friend.

Peacock, T. Raiford, Henshaw, Huntsman, Hempton, J. Parker, Captain-elect Simkin, Coach Ross.
Fatherley, Smith, Abel, Clark, J. Moore, Miser, Catlin,
Coach Maplesden, Murphy. F. Moore, K. Parker, Purdy, W. Raiford, Jones.
Markey, Johnson, Penery, Farris, Captain Stanley, Hadley, Mauck, Copeland.

Hoothall Squad and Season

PROBABLY no better team ever trotted out on the gridiron to fight for Earlham than the one that defended her this year. Because of the fact that six letter men from last year's team failed to return to college, prospects at the beginning of the season were not altogether rosy. However, under the able tutelage of Coach Ross and Assistant Coach Maplesden, a team was moulded which will go down with honor in the annals of Earlham.

When the initial call was made, about sixty candidates reported. The "E" men who again enlisted were Captain Stanley, Hadley, Hampton, Huntsman, Simkin, Farris, Clark, Jones, J. Parker, and Fatherley. The first few days following the first call were spent in picking out the wheat from the chaff. After a week the squad was cut to thirty and then practice went on at full blast.

Butler vs. Earlham. The Bulldogs, with a heavier and more experienced team, went into the game as heavy favorites. The first half, however, had the earmarks of a football game of no mean variety. At the start of the last half experience and weight began to tell and Butler ran the score to 28-0 in her favor.

Defiance came to Earlham the following Saturday. Remembering last year's 7-6 defeat at the hands of the Tigers, the Quakers hustled in and at the end of sixty minutes had the Ohio boys beaten to the tune of 26-0.

Weakening in the second half, Central Normal lost to the Rossmen on Reid Field the Saturday following the Defiance game. The first half developed into a punting duel between Huntsman and Arbograst, the former having the edge. In the second half, the Quakers, by means of an assortment of trick plays and passes, laid the game safely away. Final score: Earlham 13, Indiana Central Normal 0.

Cedarville followed Central Normal and likewise was sent home bemoaning a 13-0 defeat. The Quakers' aerial attack was prominent throughout the game. One touchdown was the direct result of a 45 yard pass.

After a week of strenuous practice Coach Ross took his men down into the hills along the Ohio River to spoil Hanover's Homecoming. Fighting every inch of the way through a watersoaked field, the maroon crossed the Hanover line four times and in each case Huntsman kicked goal. Score: Earlham 28, Hanover 0.

Countless forward passes, broken field running, end runs, and line plunges tell the story of Oakland City's 46-0 fall into a sea of mud and water at the hands of Earlham on Nov. 7.

Fighting with a spirit that wins, Earlham next avenged successive defeats at the hands of Franklin over a period of four years, by soundly trouncing the Baptists before a large Homecoming crowd. The maroon aerial attack was again prominent in this game, as both touchdowns made by the Quakers were results of long passes. Franklin's lone tally came in the last period when Rohrbaugh shot a pass to Salisbury. The game ended with Earlham on the long end of the 14-6 score. It was an example of determination to win and coördination of body and mind that gave Earlham her greatest of victories.

The following week found more opposition from Muncie Normal than had been expected. Earlham, by steadier playing and again using the aerial game to advantage, won, 20-6. Captain Stanley and Huntsman, playing their last game for Earlham, were outstanding both on offense and defense.

Seven victories out of eight starts, second only to the great Notre Dame machine in the state record, fewest number of points scored by opponents, one man on the first mythical all-state eleven—some fine scason. Building on this record, Coach Ross has arranged a schedule containing a very formidable list of opponents for next season. It includes Butler, Franklin, Hanover, DePauw, and others. Considering the fact that only two letter men will be lost by graduation, prospects for the coming season are bright. With Coaches Ross and Maplesden, aided by Captain-elect Simkin (an inspiring and worthy leader), again at the helm, we are assured that Earlham football will take another big step upwards.

WENDELL STANLEY, '26 Richmond, Indiana

Four football letters; captain in his senior year; selected by many officials and sports writers as an end on the first all-state team; a great tackler; a brainy player and in inspiring leader. "Wendell, we're sorry to see you go, but we all heartily say, 'Luck and success to you'."

WILLIAM SIMKIN, '27

Poplar Ridge, New York

"Bill" was always in there with a zip and charge that could not be stopped. Time and time again he would break through the opposing line and nail the runner in his tracks. As long as he was in the game there was no worry about the tackle position. He's next year's captain and he is mighty worthy of the honor. "We will be backing you to the limit next season, Bill."

ROBERT MISER, '29

Poughkeepsie, New York

Only a freshman, but he's a mighty capable field general. He was assigned to the regular position of quarter-back and he handled the team as skilfully as anyone could wish him to. Remarkable alertness and readiness to take in every situation at a glance were high points in his playing. "Let's go next year, 'Bob'."

MARK HAMPTON, '28

Richmond, Indiana

Mark believes in actions, not words. When on the offensive he helped tear big holes in the opposing line and when on the defensive he was like a stone wall against the other team. "Mark, you are to be commended for the great spirit with which you fought to uphold the standards of your college."

Page one hundred four

LAWRENCE PEACOCK, '27

Richmond, Indiana

Bad ankles kept "Larry" out of football two years ago and most of the opposing lines wished he had had bad ankles again this year. When he carried the ball he hit the line with a thud and a bang. He's one of the best line plungers in the state and if another year doesn't stamp him as one of the best backs Earlham ever had then it will be bad ankles again. "We're proud of you, 'Larry'."

ROBERT FATHERLEY, '28

Bayonne, New Jersey

There were few worries about the centre of the line when Bob was in there. In spite of his comparatively small size he could hold his own against the best. Why? Because he has a vim and vigor, a spirit and a love for his college that makes him succeed in everything he tries. "We're looking for great things from you in the next two years, 'Bob'."

OWEN HUNTSMAN, '26

Mount Vernon, Indiana

"Country" is one of the so-called thriple threat men, being very proficient in carrying the ball, passing, and kicking. It is sufficient to say that he excelled in all three. Few rivals outpunted him and when it came to annexing points after touchdown, that toe was always ready. "We'll miss you next year, 'Country!"."

Page one hundred five

KENNETH FARRIS, '27

Portland, Indiana

You can never tell what "Kemny" is going to do. He popped up one day and told us that he had been married for six months. The same thing happens on the football field. He does the unexpected and the result is usually satisfactory. Few backs can run the ends as he can and we are still looking for someone who can pass better than he can. "We're betting on you for next year, 'Kenny'."

CLIFFORD HADLEY, '27

Amo, Indiana

"Red" was sure an important cog in the line which was almost impregnable. He has red hair, a red face, and does he fight! He was always there when needed, blocking punts, and tackling opposing backs before they got started. "We like your spirit and fight, 'Red'."

WOODFIN MAUCK, '29

Owensville, Indiana

Short and stocky, he comes from Owensville (wherever that is). And on top of that he isn't afraid of anything. In fact, he is at the height of his glory when the opposing line outweighs his. He is an A-1 guard. He loves to play football, so if he doesn't make one sweet football player then "Red" Grange never saw a football. "We're for you 'Woody'."

OREN CLARK, '28

Georgetown, Illinois

"Clarkie" had lots of opposition at end and although he wasn't a regular he played enough to earn his "E." He convinced everybody that he can play football and it is going to be a pretty hard task to keep him out of a regular berth next season. The year ought to see him at his best. "We know you can, 'Clarkie'."

JOHN PARKER, '27

Eaton, Ohio

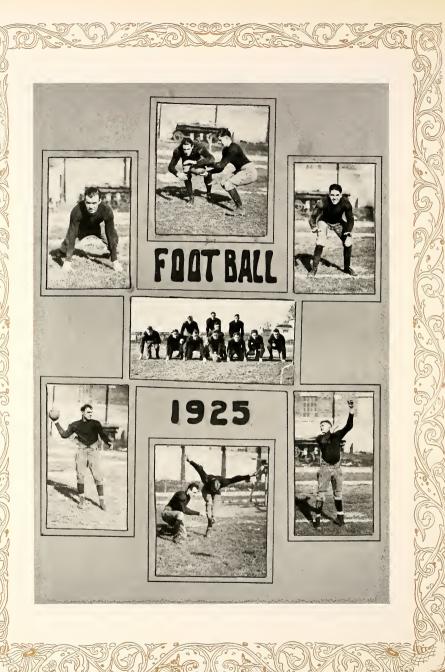

"There goes a long pass, but it's too far," yells some fan. Then like a flash, "Johnnie" dashes in and grabs the ball, completing the pass. It's the same old story. Ask Franklin for particulars. "Johnnie" was likewise efficient in getting down the field under punts, breaking up interference, and stopping anything that tried to come his way. "Great work, 'Johnnie,' we'll watch you next year."

WILBUR WILLIAMS, '29

Richmond, Indiana

"Bud" is a ladies' man, so it is rumored, and in consequence he is a great drawing card whenever he plays. One thing certain is that you get your money's worth when you come to see "Bud" in action. He is a remarkably good offensive end. He excels in mowing down a clear path for the backs. "We want you back again next season, 'Bud'."

Krueger, Druley, Huntsman, Coach Maplesden. Captain-elect King, Spaulding, Smith, Swain, Wildman. Jenkins, Captain Wallace, Jones, Hanner.

Baskethall

PENING the season with four regulars from last year's team in the line-up Earlham looked forward to a triumphant basketball season. Just before the first game, however, Coach Maplesden was taken ill and the team was forced to struggle along without him. After Christmas with "Mape" back at the helm the fellows assumed a fighting spirit which pulled several games out of the fire right at the last. Captain Wallace played his fourth year with the team and at all times displayed a fight and determination which placed him among the leading basketball players of the state. Only three letter men are lost by graduation and with several promising freshmen showing up well—well, just watch out for us, we'll be there.

THE SEASON

E. C	DePauw44	E. C 20	Franklin 3I
E. C 43	Ind. Central .22	E. C 24	Muncie Normal 25
E. C	Franklin	E. C 20	DePauw 30
E. C 35	Miami 20	E. C 23	Detroit Univ 46
E. C	Wittenberg 20	E. C 26	Michigan Aggies .21
E. C 18	Butler 61	E. C 48	Terre Haute Nor. 25
E. C 25	Hanover 27	E. C 30	Ind. Central 49
E. C 15	Butler	E. C	Muncie Normal . 28

HUGH WALLACE, Captain

Owensville, Indiana

"Davie" has played his last game for Earlham and his place will be mighty hard to fill. Always an accurate shot, the opposing teams have found him a dangerous man. It is sufficient to say that he won four letters and that he was captain of the team during his junior and senior years.

RALPH KING, Captain-clect

Amboy, Indiana

"Mop" was laid up during most of the season with tonsilitis, but when he got back in the game he couldn't be stopped. This was his second year on the varsity and at all times his playing has been outstanding. The boys elected him to be captain next year and we know he'll make good.

GEORGE KRUEGER

Richmond, Indiana

George has to duck when he plays basketball or he will bump his head on the basket. He was always ready and raring to go, and his ability to block shots was almost uncanny. He's improving rapidly and as he's only a Sophomore Earlham will see a lot of him in the next two years.

VERNON SPAULDING

Richmond, Indiana

"Verne" weighed 225 pounds when he was in high school. Now he tips the scales at 175. His basketball ability has increased in proportion to his decrease in weight. He was the backbone of the Quaker defense and he's going to be missed next year.

OWEN HUNTSMAN

Mt. Vernon, Indiana

"Country," while not as tall as the average center, has enough spring in his legs to make the rest of the centers give the tip-off up as a bad job. His fighting spirit and hard work keep him going. Earlham is sorry to see him leave because he has always been among the best.

CARLOS JENKINS

Anderson, Indiana

"Red" filled in at guard whenever he was needed. He's another boy just out of high school and he'll be a mighty sweet player before he's through. His speed and fighting spirit kept Earlham up at the top whenever he was in the game.

IVAN DRULEY

Boston, Indiana

Ivan has made more progress than any other player this season. Just out of high school and with no college experience he jumped into King's shoes and played like a veteran. He was substituted into the Muncie Normal game just in time to shoot the tying and winning baskets. Three more years and we're expecting great things from him.

VIGENE SWAIN

Milroy, Indiana

"Peck" held up his end of things as floor guard. Always fighting with a vim and vigor that was admired he helped keep Earlham in the running at all times. He is a dandy shot too. Michigan State Aggies know all about this. Swain will be in there again next year.

Intramural Athletics

NDER the supervision of Coach Maplesden, intramural athletics have had a splendid year. The competition has been very keen and the support of the teams in interclass games has been spirited. The purpose of this form of recreation is to provide an opportunity for everyone to try his skill in whatever line of activity he chooses, regardless of ability. This purpose has been well followed, for the diversity of the activities offered has made it possible for everyone to find something to his liking.

At the beginning of the fall term horseshoe, tennis, and golf tournaments were started. Lloyd Cramer proved his supremacy in the horseshoe contests by throwing ringers with uncanny regularity. He won the tournament from a group of about thirty-five entrants. Cold weather came too soon for the golfers and tennis players to complete their matches. King vs. Monger was the line-up for the finals of the "hit and walk" players, but it had to be postponed until spring. The tennis tournament reached the third round before the weather called a halt. It, too, will be finished this spring. At present it appears that the title lies between Spaulding, Hiatt, Jones, and Johnson.

Much interest and enthusiasm was shown during the basketball tournament. All four classes had good teams and the championship wasn't decided until the last few games. For the second consecutive year the class of 1928 won the event, although both the junior and freshmen classes were right on their heels until the last.

Golf, tennis, horseshoes, and baseball are holding the limelight this spring. None of the matches have as yet progressed very far. The baseball games have been very close and the title is anyone's yet. The development, physical and mental, due to these intramural sports, has been very gratifying. It is a wholesome condition to have on the campus. We must not fail to give credit to Coach Maplesden whose untiring efforts have made Earlham intramural athletics a success.

Woodman, Habegger, Holthouse, Brooks, Hoskins, Pierce, Henley, S. Barker, Kenworthy.
J. Barker, Henwood, Fatherley, Smith, Simkin, Peacock, Grant, Drudey, Bankowski.
Coach Maplesden, Clark, K. Parker, Reid, Captain Huntsman, J. Parker, Catlin, Moore, Coach Ross.

Track Squad and Season

OACH ROSS and his track team are enjoying the most successful season Earlham has had for some years. Weeding out from a group of fifty aspirants about twenty men, Coach Ross has trained and developed them until they are able to better than hold their own against the best teams in the state.

Captain Huntsman is back in the fold and it is superfluous to say he's good. Training and working hard "Country" has been an inspiration to the fellows. We haven't any worries when the field events and high hurdles are called. In the two-mile run Bankowski has been showing up well. He and Henwood are sure counters in the distance runs. John Parker, Kenneth Parker, Wayne Reid, and Glen Smith are taking care of the shorter distances in fine style. Other men who are helping materially in Earlham success are: Peacock, F. Moore, Clark, and Catlin.

On Saturday, May 15, Coach Ross took his track men to DePauw to take part in the Little State Meet. Strong opposition was met in every event but winning seconds and thirds consistently enabled the Earlham aggregation to place second, close on the heels of the strong DePauw squad. Huntsman, J. Parker. Smith, and Bankowski, showed well in the meet. The following Saturday Coach Ross took Huntsman, J. Parker, Reid, and Bankowski to Bloomington to compete in the Big State Meet. These four men garnered enough points to place Earlham third. The outstanding event was the low hurdle race. Leaving all opposition behind John Parker broke the tape well in advance of the nearest competitor. Huntsman placed in the discus, javelin, and high hurdles. Earlham's third place victory was over such colleges as De-Pauw. Butler, Wabash, and Terre Haute State Normal. It was certainly a fitting end to a successful season. Practically all of the fellows will be back next year and in consequence Coach Ross has a strong foundation upon which to form an A-1 team.

SEASON RESULTS

20
54
51
52

Hoosier Relays won by Earlham—67; Rose Poly (2d)—42.

Little State Meet at DePauw: DePauw 39.75, Earlham 30.5, Wabash 25.

Big State Meet at Bloomington: Notre Dame 63, Indiana University 45.5, Earlham 12.

OWEN HUNTSMAN, Captain Mt. Vernon, Indiana

"He's a pretty fair track and field man," somebody said when Owen first came to Earlham. He has more than fulfilled this recommendation. Captain this season, second to Plansky of Georgetown University in the Decathlon at the Penn Relays, eighty-seven points in three meets —"nuf sed."

JOHN PARKER Eaton, Ohio

Coach was worried about the low hurdles until he tried Parker. He's improving his form and speed every day. As far as the 440 is concerned, it is unnecessary to say that Johnnie's one of the best in the state.

FREMONT MOORE Converse, Indiana

We hardly knew Fremont was in school until he came out for track. He wasn't so much last year but he's got enough determination to accomplish anything. Result: a hurdler that Earlham is proud to own. He deserves the utmost credit for his faithfulness.

WAYNE REID Richmond, Indiana

Wayne's hard to beat in the 220. In the DePauw meet Puckett thought he had him beaten until Reid passed him about 15 yards from the tape. He's a fast boy with a great finish. Better still, he has two more years and he's getting better all the time.

ERNEST CATLIN

Elizabethtown, Indiana

"Ernie" is a sure point getter in the weight events. He can always be counted on to get seconds and thirds and these places have a great deal to do with winning meets. He's a junior so we will look for him back again next year.

OREN CLARK

Georgetown, Illinois

"Clarkie" tosses the javelin as easily as most of ns throw a baseball. He's getting better every day and some time he'll heave it out of sight. Oh yes—he's a close second to Huntsman in the pole vault. We have high ambitions for him, all right.

MAYNARD HENWOOD

Centerville, Indiana

Maynard takes care of the mile and helps out a lot in the two mile. He's one of the freshmen that don't waste their breath telling about their heroism in high school. He uses his showing us how it is done. The boy has three more years and he's bound to improve.

LAWRENCE PEACOCK

Richmond, Indiana

"Larry" is another one of those fellows that have enough grit and fight to win. When Coach Ross needed a half-miler, he tried Peacock. And now we have a man that can be depended upon to bring home points. He'll be mighty good next year.

KENNETH PARKER

Richmond, Indiana

"Kenny" has plenty of speed and usually shows his heels to the rest of the field in the 100 yard dash. At the Hoosier Relays he helped bring home the silver loving cup for the winning half-mile relay team. Yes sir—he's a pretty handy man to have around and we're glad that he will be back another year.

IGNACE BANKOWSKI

Richmond, Indiana

"Bank" was the find of the season. He came out for track because he wanted some exercise. If you try to wear him out in the two mile, it's as uscless as trying to run a gas engine on coca cola. He has a 100 yard dash finish.

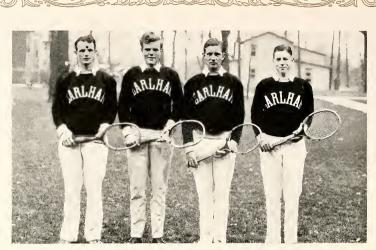

Penn Relays

FOR the first time in her history Earlham sent this year a representative to the Penn Relays at Philadelphia. J. Owen Huntsman was sent as the Quaker delegate in the decathlon. When Coach Maplesden and his protege stepped onto Franklin Field nobody paid any attention to them and much less did they consider the tow head fellow as a candidate for decathlon honors. Starting slowly with a steady, sure pace "Country" gained momentum until in the last event of the day he broke the decathlon record for the 1500 metre run. This landed him in second place, led only by Tony Plansky of Georgetown University who won the meet for the second consecutive year.

Too much credit cannot be given to Captain Huntsman for the splendid spirit he has shown throughout his four years of college life. He has always given of his best in an endeavor to help his college. He has always been a clean player, fighting from the starting signal to the last. He is a fine example of young manhood because of his conscientious training and clean living. "Country" leaves this year. We shall be sorry to lose him but we know he'll make good. He is in every way—a man.

HUNTSMAN'S DECATHLON RECORDS

100 metre dash	12 sec.	Fifth
Broad jump	19 ft., 11¾ in.	Sixth
High jump	5 ft., 6 in.	Second
Pole vault	10 ft., 8¾ in.	Tied for Second
100 metre hurdles	16.2 sec.	Second
Discus	110 ft., 13/4 in.	Third
Javelin	171 ft., 2¾ in,	Second
Shot put	37 ft., 4 in.	Fourth
400 metre run	53.5 sec.	Fourth
1500 metre run	4 min. 50 sec.	First (new decathlon record)

Captain-elect Jones, Captain Spaulding, Hiatt, Johnson

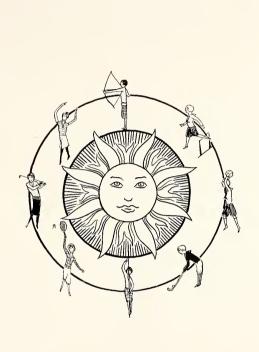

Tennis

EARLHAM tennis is following in the footsteps of the other lines of sport this year. From all indications the team will be one of the strongest in the state, and as far as being a well balanced team, there is none to beat it.

Because Old Sol refused to shower his rays of heat upon the courts before the first of May, the tennis squad took refuge within the indoor field and there began to condition themselves for the season. Edwin Ross was the only letter man lost from last year's squad. Captain Spaulding, Hiatt, Jones, and Johnson, all "E" men, answered the first call and there is every reason to believe that they will be better this year than last.

The first match, with Butler, scheduled April 9, was postponed because the courts could not be rounded into shape. Two meets have been played before THE SARGASSO goes to press. One was with Terre Haute Normal and the other was with Butler. In both instances the Quakers were victorious, the scores being 4-2, 4-1, respectively. The Butler victory was well deserved and it is significant to note that it is the first tennis victory over the strong Bulldog netmen for several years. The boys will bear watching in the State Tournament at Muncie. The schedule:

April	17	Terre Haute Normal	(At Terre Haute)
April	24	Butler	(At Earlham)
April	30	Muncie Normal	(At Muncie)
May	8	Terre Haute Normal	(At Earlham)
May	15	Franklin	(At Franklin)
May	21	Butler	(At Butler)
May	22	Muncie Normal	(At Earlham)
May	27, 28, 29	State Tournament at	Muncie

Women's Athletics

Duff, Jarra, Henby, Osborne, Gentry, Evans Furnas Sec.-Treas., Hurst, Toms, Burk, Comstock Director Elliott, Stegall, Henley President, Sylvester, Edwards

Momen's Athletic Association

THE Women's Athletic Association of Earlham is an organization including every woman on the campus. It has for its interest the welfare, both physical and social, of each of its members.

The association acts through its executive committee which includes the Physical Education Director and the officers and various sport-managers. Each year the association attempts to go further in promoting women's athletics at Earlham, keeping in touch with the Athletic Conference of American College Women, of which it is a member.

The association sponsors the working out of friendly interclass competitive activities, all working for the same purpose. To make Physical Education a real and living part of the development of the lives of the women of Earlham, is what the W. A. A. strives to do.

The Department

THE Department of Women's Physical Training at Earlham is very successfully directed by Miss Comstock with the help of three student assistants. It is impossible to praise too highly the efforts that Miss Comstock makes to care for the physical life of the Earlham girls and in these efforts she reaches not only the physical but also the social by her radiant personality. Almost every type of physical training is offered to the girls as much as equipment will allow. It is the remote hope of the department to be able to offer swimming to the girls which would be a very attractive addition to the college curriculum.

There has been a definite development in the indoor work this year. A new member of the Women's Athletic Association committee was created by adding a Gymnasium Manager, and a Gymnasium meet was held at the end of the season representing all types of work which had been done including Folk Dances, Tactics, Rope Climbing, Parallel Bars, and Ladder Work. In the future the department hopes that with this good beginning this part of the work will be more highly developed. The Director will have a regular salaried assistant beginning next year, which means that the department is really growing, and growing successfully.

Irene Tarra, Manager

Hockey

L AST September when the call for hockey was issued, such swarms of under and upper class girls answered that it looked as if the season would be quite a success—just as all sport seasons are! At first it appeared impossible to make order out of chaos, especially since Jupiter Pluvius reigned over so many of the otherwise desirable hockey days. Nothing daunted, however, the teams plugged along, sometimes giving imitations of ice hockey on the slippery field, often wishing for winged attendants to hold the umbrellas. When the tournament approached the teams were short in practice—but never in spirit.

One interesting feature of the tournament was that the outcome was a riddle. Every team had high hopes for the championship, and each team seemed to have a fair chance of winning it. The Freshman were especially enthusiastic and worked like Trojans. At the close of the tournament, the Sophomores and the hitherto jinx-pursued Seniors were tied with two games won and one tied. The draw was played off, but the Seniors' favorite jinx returned and the championship was won by the class of 1928.

Even after the tournament the teams were unwilling to end the season, and when the varsity was announced, it was challenged by the dauntless Freshman. In a spectacular game the varsity defended its laurels by winning a decisive victory. The Seniors also were not to be outdone by the underclassmen and challenged the faculty men to an exhibition match, but because of the fear of defeat or inherent shyness on the part of the professors the game was never played.

Class captains of the year were: Seniors, Jane Sylvester; Juniors, Helen Brenneman; Sophomores, Helen Thomas; Freshman, Frances Goodwin.

HOCKEY VARSITY

Left to right: Osborne, Edwards, Brenneman, Jarra, Henley, Burton, Stegall, Janney, Toms, Duff, Thomas

HOCKEY CHAMPIONS

Burton, Embree, Somers, Salford, Beasley Thomas, Mason, Schaffer, Elder, Janney

Florence Osborne, Manager

Baskethall

BASKETBALL is our chief indoor sport. This year the season was cut to six weeks. The shortened time condensed the training period and prevented flagging interest. Interclass games closed the season. The Sophomores, class of '28, showed outstanding team work and individual ability. Needless to say they were champions.

CAPTAINS

Eleanor Henley, '26 Katherine Woodward, '27 Mary John Embree, '28 Martha Boren, '29

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Janney, Henley, Elliott Osborne, Embree

CHEER LEADERS

Saltford, Lamb, Sylvester, Toms

Hurst, Lindley, Gentry Manager, Stunkel, Karch

Health

CAPTAINS

LAVERNE LINDLEY, '26 EDNA HURST, '27
MILDRED KARCH, '28 MARTHA STUNKEL, '29

LIFE at Earlham is full of activities from the day girls take up their abode here as freshmen until they march out with the parchment emblem of the work they have done at old E. C. Every activity is an opportunity for every girl, and in order to meet them squarely and make them a valuable part of her experience, she must keep herself physically fit for the task; and so it is the purpose of the Health Department of W. A. A. to help every girl to keep herself in trim for all the joys, hard work, worries, and pleasures that come her way. Life may be a burden or it may be one big joy, according to the way we are physically fitted to meet it. Every girl that has kept health rules can meet life with a smile that is sincere.

Elizabeth Evans, '27, Mgr.

Golf

Field Day

HREE loud blasts of a whistle-On your mark, get set, and go. A loud blast from a bright, shiny pistol— That's the signal to start, you know. Fifty yards, a hundred yards, Any distance will do. Contestants from all classes All speeds, heights, and widths, too. Javelin hurlers over here, Grecian plate tossers hear the call. All the other contestants report Basket ball or hard base ball. Hurdlers ready for this heat Following hurdlers ready to run, Everyone hurrying, scurrying, Oh what a day of fun! This just signifies a little What feminine tracksters will do Out on our own Comstock field When the sky is clear and blue.

Esther Elliott, '27, Mgr.

Tennis

Esther Stegall, '26, Mgr.

Track

"E C", "Double E" and "E" Clubs

A GIRL'S enthusiasm for athletics, together with pride in accomplishment, begins to arise and take definite form when she attains the honor of wearing a maroon or white E on her sweater. One thousand points including fifty in health rules are required for this E.

The double E award is the second highest honor that a girl may receive. Although this insignia has been offered but three years many are striving for it, with their best possible efforts. To receive a Double E a girl must win her points in at least three major sports with two months Health Rules.

The E. C. monogram and also the sweater are awarded to the girl who wins three thousand points, made in four major sports and three months of Health Rules. This is the highest honor the Women's Athletic Association offers. It is the goal of every sport loving girl, but the acquisition of a very small percent of each class.

The E. C. Club was organized in 1923 by the girls who were then eligible for the sweater, with Edith Haworth as President. Esther Stegall, '26, Arlene Duff, '26, and Esther Elliott, '27, made the club this year. The graduate members of the club are: Margaret N. Taylor, Thomasina F. Fisher, Nellie D. Teale, Edith H. Higgins, Agnes S. Kellum, Elizabeth Parker, Rebecca Borden Clements, Mary Finch, Beulah Brown, Vetta Fellow, Emily Lippincott, and India Stanford.

Every girl may work for the above award. The points may be earned in the following sports: tennis, golf, hockey, basketball, baseball, track, archery, hiking, general gym, and health.

E Club

Allen, Jarra, Hartsuck Fowerman, Harst, Cowperthwaite, Burk

Double E Club

Stegall, Duff, Jarra, Hurst, Hartsuck, Elliott

Hiking

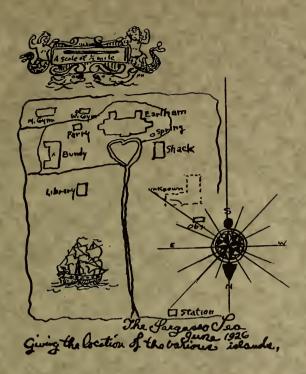

Archery

V ESTIGES of the blood of abortigines lingers in the veins of Earlham archers. This is the favorite less strenuous sport, and no wonder, for what could give one more satisfaction than the sing of a swiftly flying arrow and the thud report as it hits the taut canvas of the bull's eye!

Baseball

B ASEBALL has the largest enrollment of all the spring sports. The season for the spring of 1925 ran true to form. After the required concessions to the weather the interclass games were played. The Sophomores, the class of '27, were champions.

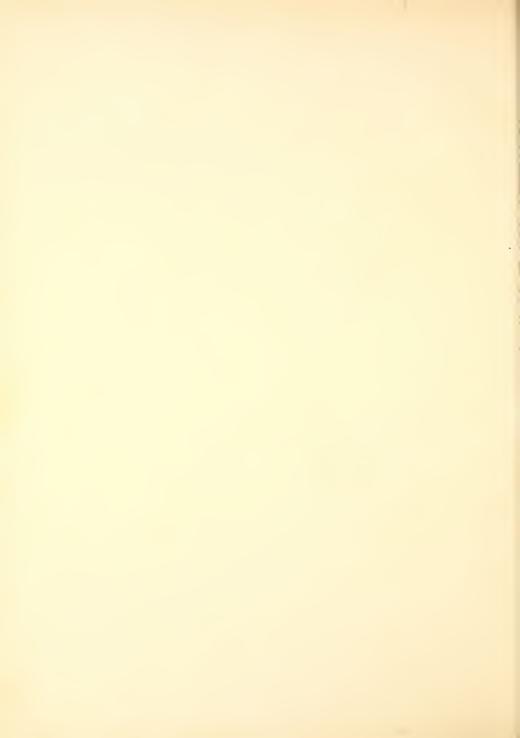

Log

The Log

HEREIN are set down the accounts and observations of the crew of the good ship Earlham 1926, in her cruise through the Earlapagos which is like the Sargasso Sea. Peradventure these divers records may find favor in after years in the hearts and minds of this merry crew.

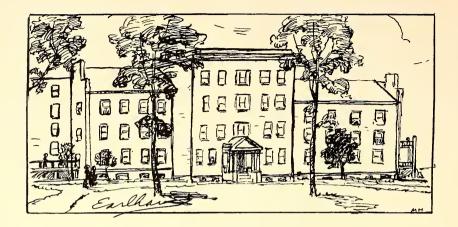

FIRST SEMESTER

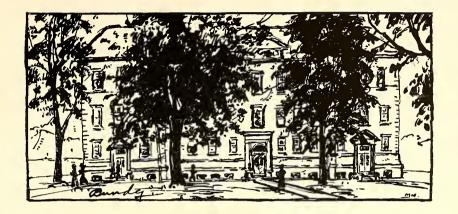

Anchor was weighed in that season of the year when the September trades were blowing strongest. Earlapagos is situated in latitude 39° 50′ north and 84° 50′ west longitude.

- Sept. 9. On all hands and at all distances are rugged peaks, two or three stories high, rising sheer from a blue green sea. From the port bow we sighted a school of Lactophrys Trigonus, a genus of small green fish commonly known as Freshmen. Quartermaster Grant estimated the school to number some 217 barrels. Along with the trigonae, there were seen a few Chaetodon Capistratus, or faculty fish. This species seemed to lead the green creatures about and "put them through their strokes," as the old saying goes.
- Sept. 14. At eight bells i' th' watch, we sighted a vast number of large and unusual sharks and Echeneis Naucrates (shark suckers) to the star board. It is said that these fish live for about four years, and in extreme cases, even five or six. The variety with the small heads seem to stay the longest.
- Sept. 18. A squad of trained seals lead by a walrus called Stanley started football practice on the reefs.
- Sept. 26. These trained seals with the maroon skins and white heads attacked the Butler Bull-dogs, but were defeated 28-0.
- Oct. 3. The enemy ship Defiance, flying a black flag, was encountered and sunk in 26 fathoms of water by a broadside of eleven guns.
- Oct. 5. Prof. Ed talked in chapel of "horses, women, and other creatures." The second topic was greatly appreciated.
- Oct. 8. Y. W. C. A. formally accepts its new members at the annual candle service. All but the masthead lights were extinguished during the ceremony.

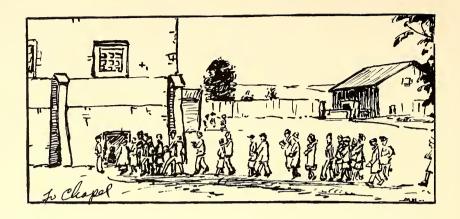

- Oct. 9. Miss Pick befriends a canine waif in morning convocation. Miss Doan in referring to the incident said that Miss Pick was literally covered with "parasites."
- Oct. 10. In a broadside encounter with Indiana Central, Earlham was victorious 13-0.
- Oct. 13. Y. M. ship greets new crew with baked beans and hot dogs.
- Oct. 14. Wranglers from Cambridge board Earlbam Ship and discuss the future of our grandchildren.
- Oct. 15. Seen in the Palladium: "Mrs. Brinton entertains in honor of her son Virgil."
- Oct. 16. "Dad" Lehman in chapel: "Now all the men sing the second stanza." Miss Doan and Miss McCoy respond heartily.
 - Oct. 17. Earlham defeats Cedarville 13-0.
- Oct. 21. Capts. Huntsman and Baldwin and first mates dine in the cabin of Valley Inn. Return voyage perilous for lack of gasoline.
- Oct. 28. The Earlham warriors down the crew from the good ship Hanover. Orv Hall furnishes the matches for Earlham's celebration.
- Oct. 30. Glee Club appears on deck with cold bare feet, partially warmed by "hot" songs.
- Oct. 31. Bundy men spend day swabbing deck for annual inspection. Everything quite ship shape.

- Nov. 2. Mr. Holly shows his remarkable memory by reciting whole books of the Bible.
- Nov. 6. Delegates from all Indiana colleges meet at Purdue to discuss Campus problems. Many wild tales are told. In fact a Chicago paper terms the conference "juvenile squeaks."
- Nov. 7. Earlham swims to victory on the rain-soaked field at Oakland City, 46-0.
- Nov. 11. William Dudley Foulke in carrying out the theme of the Cambridge-Earlham debate maintains that we should pity our grandchildren.
- Nov. 13. Friday the 13th. Prexy makes the most popular speech of the year in pep session predicting an Earlham victory over Franklin.
- Nov. 14. Homecoming. The old crew comes back to witness the best game of the season. 14-7 in favor of Earlham. The victorious Earlham crew and visitors take dinner on deck, and Mask and Mantle presents plays.
 - Nov. 16. Bids for the new building open.
- Nov. 17. Roller skating instituted in the steerage department (for women only). Casualties many but not serious.
- Nov. 18. Nevin Sayre gives Peace talk in chapel. All firearms then thrown overboard.
- Nov. 19. Bundy, not to be outdone by the women, installs a pool table. Swimming great.

Nov. 21. Final victory of the year. Earlham 20—Muncie 6.

Nov. 24. Professor Markle talks on the humanizing of knowledge.

Nov. 25. Senior men take course in Comparative Anatomy. "Country" Huntsman found on his bunk practicing the art of carving the Thanksgiving turkey. His apparatus consisted of a knife, a football, and "Hints on How to Carve a Turkey."

Nov. 26. Thanksgiving party in the main salon. Twenty-two turkeys were devoured by the crew and passengers.

Nov. 30. Prof. Cosand tells us of "Brakes." We hope he doesn't notice the "breaks" we've made in this book.

Dec. 2. Visiting Friends on board. Rufus Jones challenged us to be different. True individuality can be expressed in structural honesty, consummate invention, and passion for exalted beauty.

Dec. 4. Gridiron warriors dine in state at banquet. Prominent Richmond business men were guests and paid tribute to the successful team and coaches.

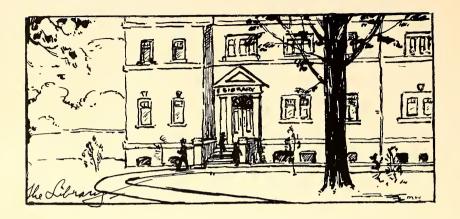

Dec. 5. Class parties.
Seniors "buncoed" at formal.
Juniors pulled taffy.
Sophomores romped as youngsters.
Freshman frolicked—after they got there.

- Dec. 7. Miss McCoy, relating her experiences in Spain this summer, said that she saw a bull fight in which eight horses and eight bulls were killed, and she lived to tell the story.
- Dec. 8. DePauw downs Earlham in the first basket-ball game of the season 44-29.
- Dec. 9. Mr. Davidson in chapel contrasted the American college life with that of the Chinese student.
- Dec. 10. Earlham wins first hardwood victory over Indiana Central 43-21.
- Dec. 12. Trustees sign the contract for the new building.
- Dec. 14. Dr. Kelly admonishes the crew saying: "It is immoral for students to attend classes without their lessons, while it is a moral victory for students to get their lessons."
 - Dec. 15. We suffer defeat at hands of Franklin 49-21.
- Dec. 16. All passengers ordered on deck where Captain Edwards officiates at the ground breaking for the new building.
- Dec. 18. The entire crew and passengers given shore leave for Christmas.
- Jan. 4. Crew and passengers return and attempt to regain their sea legs.

- Jan. 5. Earlham defeats Wittenberg 33-20.
- Jan. 6. Paul Blanchard speaks of the intimacies of Russian life.
- Jan. 9. Earlham falls before Butler's football tactics 61-18.
- Jan. 11. Dr. Wildman gives demonstration of the latest method of cooking beefsteak and eggs. Each one present also is given a sample of snow.
- Jan. 12. First class passengers (seniors) forget their dignity and coast down Clear Creek hill to the tune of 10 below zero, and hot dogs—in short a hot time on a cold hill.
- Jan. 13. Dr. Porter warns us not to be contemporary grandfathers—small danger.
- Jan. 14. The Press Club got a couple of sea horses and went on a sleigh ride with their friends.
 - Jan. 15. Hanover nosed out the Quaker crew 27-25.
- Jan. 18. Miss Doan in chapel talks about Fruits of Solitude.
 - Jan. 21. Final exams start.
- Jan. 26. Prof. Garner in correcting Freshman Lecture examination papers finds the following definition: "The diaphragm is an imaginary line located somewhere in the center of the body. It is of use only to vocal students."

Jan. 29. Exams over — much felt and expressed throughout the ship.

SECOND SEMESTER

Feb. 1. Set sail once more on the sea of learning. Some of the crew were lost overboard in the squall which lasted from Jan. 21 to Jan. 29.

The Quaker Quill makes its first appearance.

Feb. 4. All hands were piped on deck to see Capt. Wallace and his Fightin' Quakers win from Muncie Normal but were disappointed by a 24 to 25 loss.

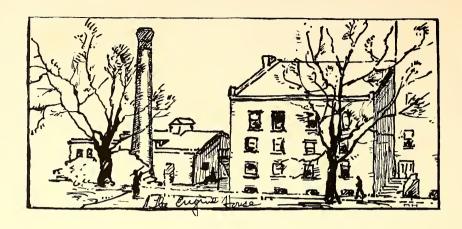

Feb. 5. Miss Wessen, President of the National Field Hockey Association, talks in chapel and is entertained at a W. A. A. tea.

Earlham women debaters tie with Indiana Central in their first debate of the season.

Feb. 6. The DePauw-Earlham storm is indicated by a falling barometer at Trueblood Field. Earlham is defeated after a stiff resistance, 30 to 20.

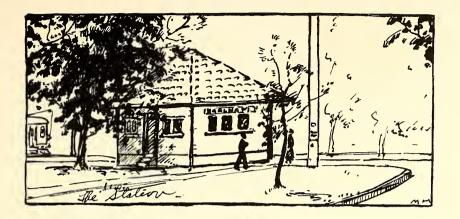

Feb. 10. Dr. Howard Brinton speaks on modern tendencies in scientific thought in a chapel speech to the crew.

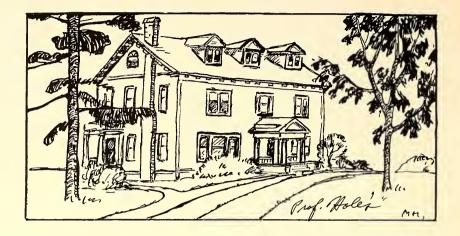

- Feb. 12. A musical holiday is observed when Madrigal sings in chapel, the band holds a banquet at Valley Inn, and the Glee Club makes its initial appearance as a part of the musical program preceding Judge Florence Allen's address at the Coliseum. A foraging expedition is repulsed by Detroit University 43-26.
- Feb. 13. Our expedition regains its confidence and succeeds in routing the Michigan Aggies, 26-21.
- Feb. 14. J. Henry Scattergood, prominent Philadelphia Quaker, tells of Europe and the new Locarno spirit.
- Feb. 15. David Porter emphasizes the need for truth before chapel convocation.
- Feb. 16. Maurice Dumesnil and Alexander DeBruille appear in the first Earlham concert of the year and are enthusiastically received.
- Feb. 18. The affirmative debaters go to Wittenberg for a practice debate and are repulsed by the Wittenberg team.
- Feb. 19. French Club play is given in chapel. The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets are entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Markle.
- Feb. 20. Our defensive forces, gaining strength, defeat Terre Haute State Normal, 48-25.

- Feb. 22. Dean Wright announces the honor roll. Dr. J. A. Artman, Professor of Religious Education in the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, speaks on character and personality of professors. Students agree that outside activities are just as important as classes.
- Feb. 23. Wittenberg demonstrates its ability in debate by defeating the Earlham team again.
- Feb. 25. Mr. E. T. Albertson, General Sec'y of the Indiana State Sunday School Association, speaks on religious education.
- Feb. 26. College trio makes its debut. Wes. Scull succeeds in defeating W. Scull in a hair-raising debate.
- Feb. 27. In the best basketball game of the year, the Mapesmen dispense with a large Muncie lead and defeat the Normal team, 30-26, to the jangling and the clanging of the bells, bells, bells.
- March 1. Professor Morris is selected by the Carnegie Peace Foundation as one of a commission to investigate social and industrial conditions in Europe.
- March 5. W. A. A. holds indoor meet, with the Seniors winning first place. The affirmative debate team defeats Butler.
- March 10. W. H. McLean of DePauw University, vocational guidance expert, speaks in chapel.

March 12. Dr. Jaeckh of the University of Berlin tells Earlham students of the formation of the new Germany. All Earlham's Joe Colleges turn out to hear Margery Maxwell.

March 13. The entire fleet drops anchor and stands to, while the Mask and Mantle present three one-act plays.

March 16. The honor students entertain themselves at dinner. Even the wise must pay.

March 18. The Glee Club leaves on its annual spring tour, and on its return attempts to keep the bus, thinking it has bought the thing. Shore leave is extended to all passengers for ten days.

March 29. Co-eds return from spring vacation with their green hats. No one was seen returning aboard with golf clubs.

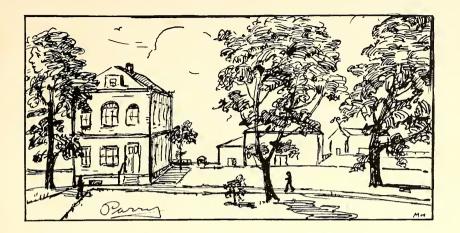

March 30. Every one assembles on aft deck to hear the home concert of the glee club.

March 31. A Kipling program is given in chapel.

April 2. Dr. Alexander Purdy of Hartford Theological Seminary, on a tour of western colleges, visits Earlham and speaks in chapel.

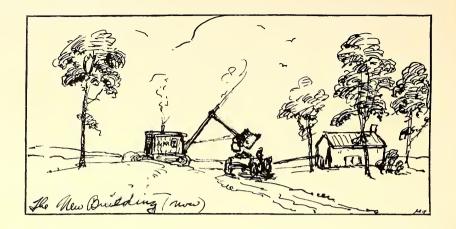

Chemistry students attend convention in Indianapolis and learn the latest scientific methods of manufacturing pills and canning beans.

- April 3. Several old grads return for Press Club Banquet. Day Dodgers present "Babs" as their annual play with their customary success.
- April 4. Dr. Alexander Purdy explains the significance of Easter at Easter Sunday Services.
- April 5. Dr. Maude Arthur of the State Board of Health speaks to the women students.
 - April 9. George Scherer wins the Peace Contest.
- April 10. The track team goes ashore and engages Hanover at Reid Field. With the help of Huntsman's seven firsts a score of 106-20 is netted.
- April 12. Dr. Hans Albrecht, marine engineer and ship builder of Hamburg, Germany, speaks on modern German thought.
- April 14. "Of What Shall We Think?" is the subject of Dr. Hole's chapel address.
- April 16. Madrigal Club gives a concert in Indianapolis. Miss Barber, of the Home Economics Department of W. K. Kellogg Co. of Battle Creek, convinces us in chapel that food is necessary.
- April 17. An Earlham celebration is held. The tennis team defeats Terre Haute State Normal, while the track team is displayed to Wabash and returns with a 72-54 score.

April 20. Dr. Balderston speaks in chapel on Chinese student life.

April 21. Virgilio Lazzari and Isaac VanGrove give a delightful climax to the Earlham concert series.

April 23. Several dads and mothers furnish us an ideal chapel program. "Country" puts Earlham on the map by taking second in the Decathlon at Penn Relays. Ours isn't the "Land of Yap Hanks" any longer.

April 24. The dads defeat their daughters in baseball. Tennis team defeats Butler. The cornerstone is laid with impressive ceremonies after which DePauw is defeated in a track meet by a score of 65-61. Phoenix-Ionian present "The Goose Hangs High" very successfully.

April 26. Prof. Garner speaks in chapel on the effects of climatic conditions on human development.

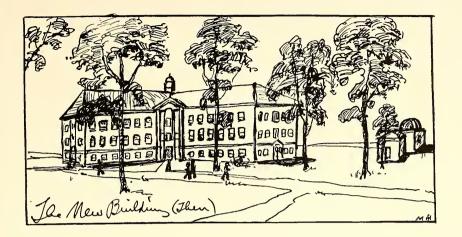

April 28. Dr. Louis F. Ross of Easthaven presents the attractions of hospital vocations.

April 30. Earle Carr wins the Indiana division of the National Constitutional Contest.

May 1. The faculty women entertain at Grey Gables in honor of Miss Doan. Earlham track team wins from Butler 74-52.

Ionians entertain at their annual banquet at Grey Gables. May Day is celebrated by a special breakfast in the Earlham Hall dining room. The fashions of the years pass in review before us at "Follies of Fashion."

May 2. President Edwards leads Joint Association speaking on "Friendship."

May 3. Miss Michi Kawai, General Secretary of the Japanese Y. W. C. A., speaks of Japanese conditions and pleads for a better understanding of Japanese students.

Madrigal and Glee Clubs take part in the program for National Music week at Morton High School.

May 5. Hans Gramm, who was a German government representative in connection with the American Friends Service Committee in Germany, speaks in chapel on the German Youth Movement.

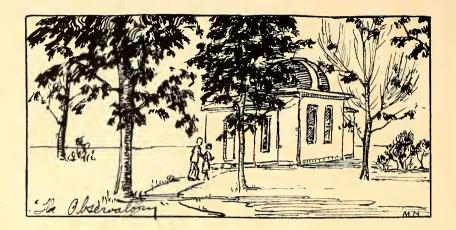

May 7. Mr. Hicks and Norman Brown, Richmond musicians, give us a delightful musical program in the cabin.

May 8. Earlham wins the Hoosier Relays. We bring back eight gold medals, six silver and four bronze medals and a silver loving cup. The Oriental tea which is held in the Students' Parlor is a huge success.

May 10. German students take charge of chapel and several typical German musical selections are given.

May 15. Co-eds entertain the entire college at an oriental lawn party. Every one pronounced it one of the most original and delightful entertainments given this year.

Earlham places second in the State Track meet at Greencastle.

May 26. W. A. A. annual field day. Every one eats dinner on the West Campus.

May 29. Annual W. A. A. banquet. Madrigal Club gives an oriental home concert.

June 2. Exams. Seniors begin to realize that a four year loaf is about to be finished.

June 5. Sophomores entertain the Seniors at Westcott Hotel.

Juniors and Freshmen frolic at Beechwood.

June 10. Music students are presented in a recital.

June 11. Mask and Mantle present "The Youngest."

June 12. The Seniors give an excellent interpretation of Zangwell's "The Melting Pot."

June 13. Baccalaureate.

June 14. Commencement.

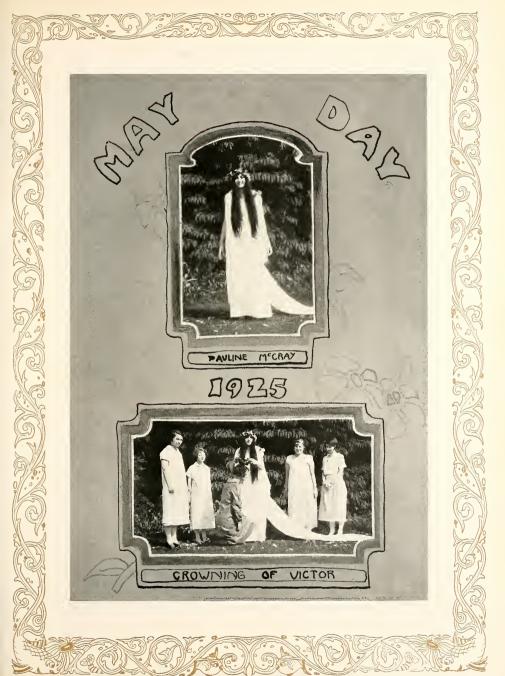

The cruise is done and we are anchored in home waters once more. Thus endeth this account of the trip of "The Mistress Earlbam" on her 1926 expedition. May she make many more successful voyages with her ever changing crews in the years to come!

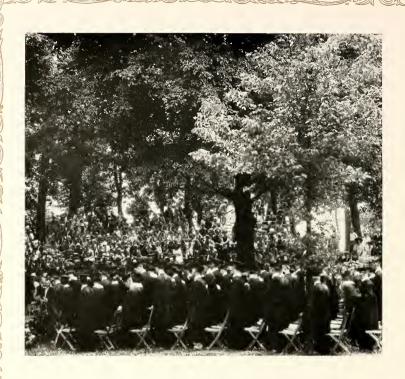

Drift

Page one hundred forty-nine

Commencement 1925

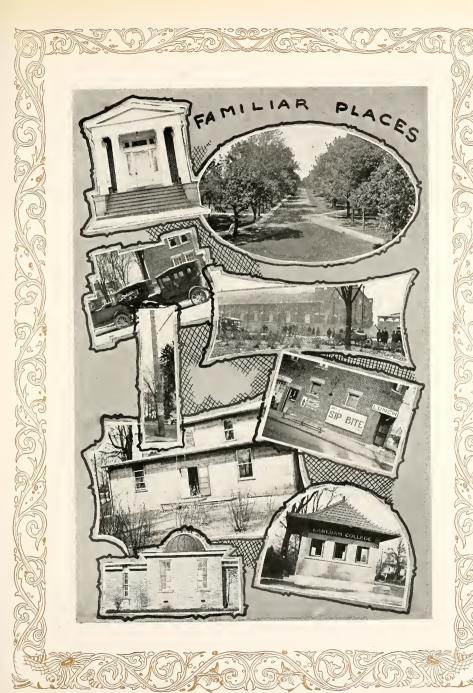

Pellowstone Trip

AST summer the Geology Department conducted its eleventh field trip, and for the second time in the Yellowstone National Park. The party was made up of eleven members headed by Doctor Allen D. Hole. During its two weeks stay in the park it moved camp twice in order to broaden as much as possible its field of detailed study. A general survey of the points of interest in the region was also made before breaking camp for the final time. On the return trip stopovers were made in Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, and Denver.

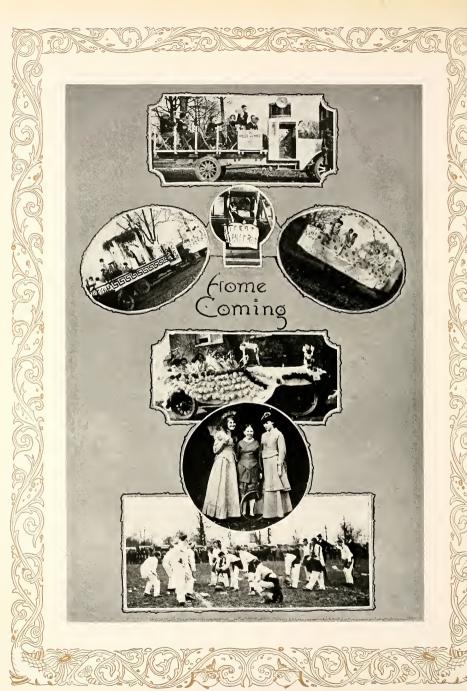

Plans are being made for a similar trip this summer by a party even larger than the one making the study last summer.

Page one hundred fifty-two

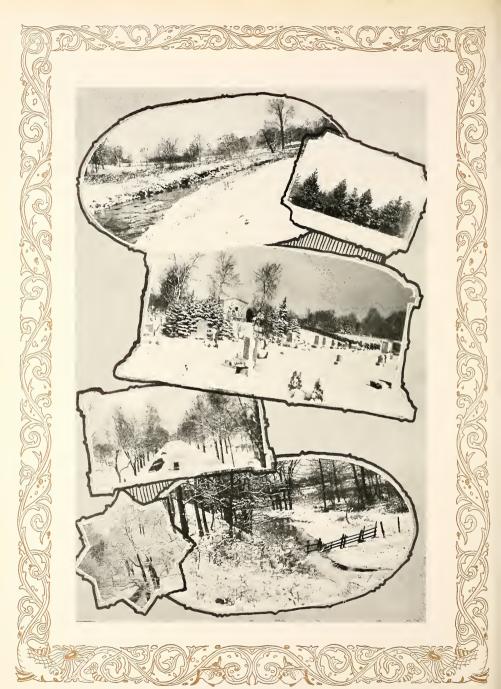

Page one hundred fifty-three

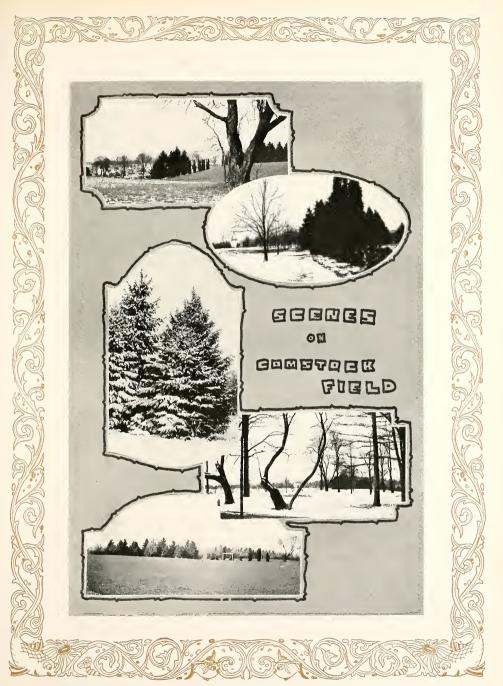

Page one hundred fifty-four

Page one hundred fifty-five

Page one hundred fifty-seven

Building Progress

THIS college year has seen the first stage of the construction of the new building, made necessary by the burning of Lindley Hall.

During last summer the plans for this building and for the future general development of the campus were completed and contracts for the construction were entered into during the latter part of November, a little more than a year after the fire.

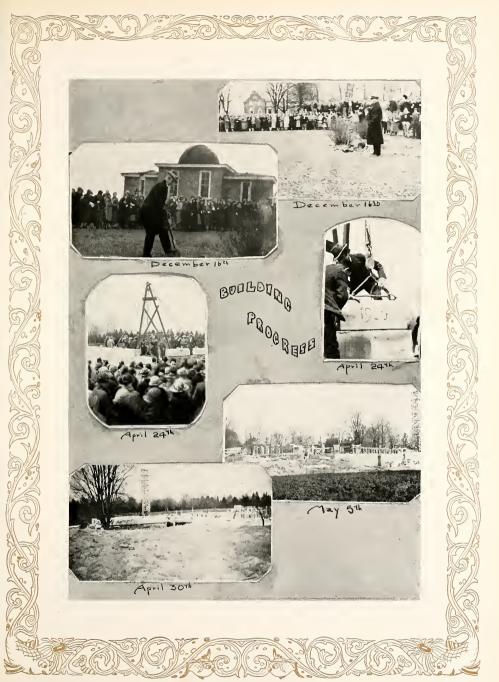

Immediately following the chapel hour on Wednesday, December 16th, 1925, the student body and faculty went to the building site, where in company with others who had come in from the outside community, they witnessed the official breaking of ground. Dr. Walter C. Woodward as Chairman of the Board of Trustees turned the first spadeful of dirt. He was followed in this by Adam Bartel representing the citizens of Richmond and by the president of each of the college classes. Within a few days a steam shovel and a force of men were at work. Throughout the winter months excavating and the pouring of concrete foundations proceeded, sometimes with snow on the ground and with the handicap of freezing temperature.

By the middle of April the work had proceeded to the point where the cornerstone could be laid. At the suggestion of the committee in charge of the Annual Parents Day observance, the laying of the cornerstone was made a feature of the program of that day, April 24th. The exercises were held immediately following the lunch hour. President Edwards presided. Brief addresses were made by Mayor Handley of Richmond and Dr. Charles M. Woodman, Chairman of the Building Committee. Representatives of various college interests came forward and placed in the box current copies of the college publications, a history of the fire and planning of the new building, and other pertinent records. The copper box used had been made in the college shop by Howard Gluys.

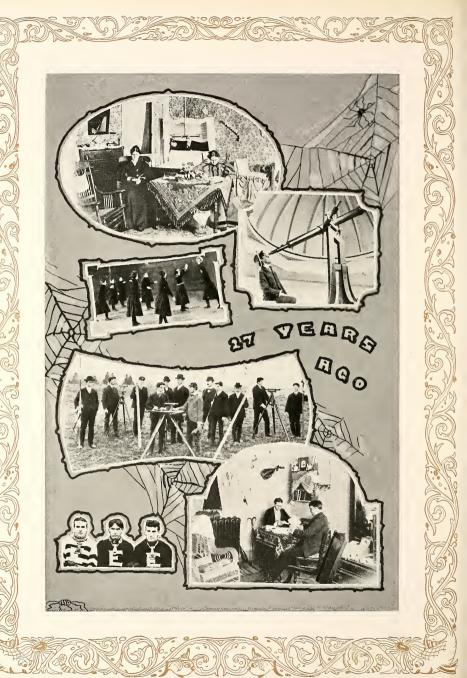

As the college year closes, the slow work of foundation laying has been completed and the walls of brick and stone are rising to give substance to the plans so long in preparation.

The planning and locating of this building has been of more than ordinary importance in that they determine very largely the future building plans of the college. Its shape and location commit the college definitely to the development of a quadrangle of buildings of which it is the northwest corner. A similar structure is contemplated for the northeast corner to serve as a science building.

As the first new building arises, the quadrangle begins to take shape and one visualizes with enthusiasm the college of the future.

Page one hundred fifty-nine

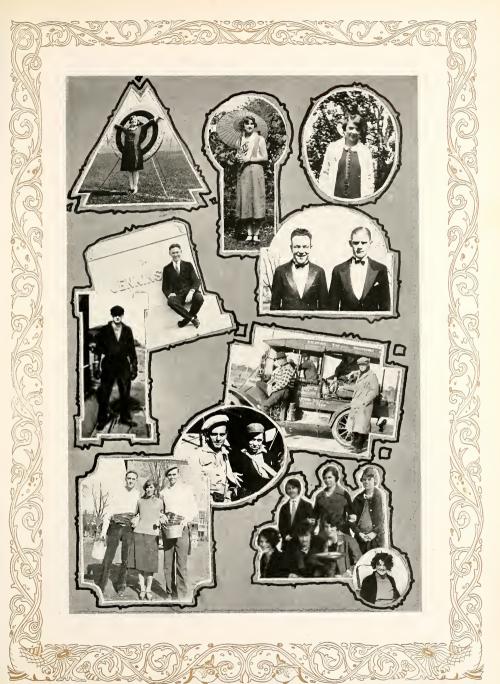

Page one hundred sixty

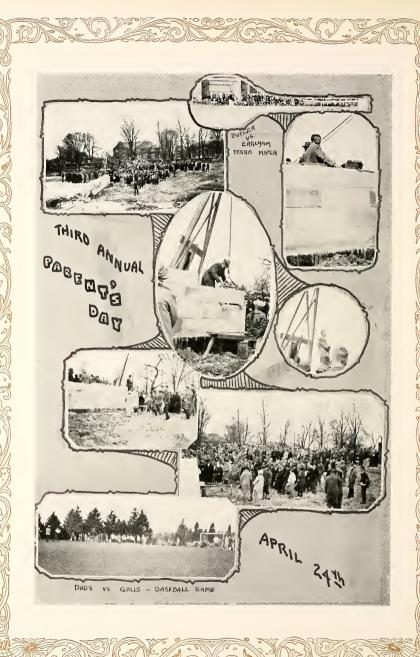

Page one hundred sixty-one

Page one hundred sixty-two

Page one hundred sixty-three

Page one hundred sixty-four

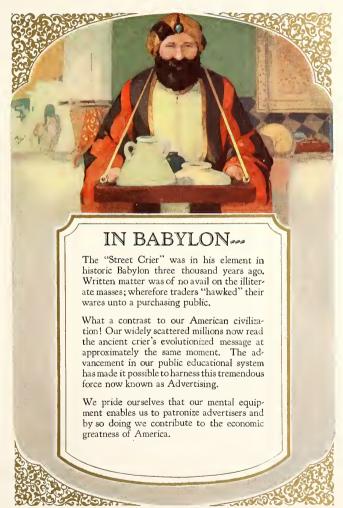

Page one hundred sixty-six

Page one hundred sixty-eight

This insert is printed on BLACK AND WHITE Coated Book made by DILL & COLLINS CO.

Earlham's Student Body

We hope to have closer contact with you when you enter Richmond's prosperous business circle.

Municipal

Electric Lighting and Power Plant

Richmond's Leading Store Since 1866

Thirty-eight Departments

Filled with

Dry Goods, Ready-to-Wear, Silk, Dress Goods, Trimmings, Gloves, Hosiery, Cotton, Wool and Silk Underwear, Rugs, Draperies, Millinery, Art Goods, Infants Wear

THE GEO. H. KNOLLENBERG CO.

Snaveley's Confectionery

"A Sip and A Bite"

Soda Fountain

and

Luncheon

3

98 West Main Street

HAVE YOU EVER HEARD?

- "Now let us get on rather rapidly."
- "And that will be all today."
- "The Constitution says this in Article IV, Section 2, Paragraph 4."
- "Now we were talking last time when the bell closed."
- "Now what do we have on foot to-day?"
- "Now I'll make a partial assignment for outside reading."
- "We'll begin at this point in our next discussion."
 - "Do sit."
 - "In the final analysis."
 - "Our courses next year will......'

Thompson & Borton

The Store of Service

We will attend to your Special Orders promptly.

P)

Popular Priced Clothing

Richmond's Largest and Most Complete Music Store

EVERYTHING IN MUSIC STARR MADE REPRODUCING, GRAND, MANUAL and PLAYER PIANOS. THE STARR PHONO-GRAPH, GENNETT RECORDS

All Manufactured in Richmond

Complete line of popular and standard sheet music, band and orchestra instruments and accessories. Leading makes of radio and complete line of slandard parts and equipment.

STARR PIANO CO.

SALES CORPORATION

931-35 Main St. Richmond, Ind.

The Friends Book & Supply House

offers

A splendid line of books. An attractive reading room for browsing. Prompt service for special orders.

"If it is a book—let us supply you."

We strive to do the impossible —Please Everybody

One trial will convince you.

Home Soft Laundry

THE CAMERA SHOP

W. E. MORREY, Prop.

Men's and Boys'
CLOTHING and FURNISHINGS

at

THE MODEL CLOTHING CO.

709 Main Street

Richmond Lumber Co.

MILLWORK LUMBER AND SUPPLIES

Phones 3527, 3307

"She went out with a young gentleman of the other sex."

ALICE HESTER.

Miss Davis to Sophomore Class: "This is a wonderful thing to know—how to break a rule."

Joe Moore says he is a great lover of English Literature but likes Scott's Emulsion best of all.

Merrill Hiatt crams all night for an exam and then sleeps through class.

David Copeland says as soon as he has read 99 more pages of History he will have read 100 pages.

SERVICE

QUALITY

G. R. GAUSE

FLORIST

"Say it with Flowers"

VISITORS WELCOME

National Boad, West Phone 3135

To the young man and the young woman with their careers before them, we extend a cordial invitation to make this their banking home.

First National Bank

Main and Seventh Streets

Richmond, Indiana

gi

FOUND ON BULLETIN BOARD

Lost—2 golf balls somewhere on golf course. Williem Ott.

Workibus forevera No restororum Scratchum headibus Markus lowerorum Teacher callonus Non preparedum Markus zeronus Killum all joyum.

Bob Smith hiking through Easthaven noticed a man dangling over a flower bed a stick with a piece of string attached. He approached, and wishing to be friendly, remarked: "How many have you caught?" "You're the ninth," was the reply. Let Us "Cheer Up" Your Home with

FURNITURE STOVES BUGS

Ġ,

DUNING FURNITURE CO.

Ninth and Main Sts.

"When It's Done By Wilson, It's Done Right"

WILSON

Cleaner and Tailor

1105—PHONES—1106

1018 MAIN STREET

Earlham Representatives: Kenworthy, Smith and Elizabeth Caldwell

Build the Body as well as the Mind!

DELICIOUS ROLLED OATS

Contains the Body-Building, Strength-Giving Qualities

Foods from all climes, at all seasons, brought to your table under the

Delicious Brand

Ask Your Grocer!

JOS. A. GODDARD CO.

Distributors

MUNCIE, INDIANA

The WESTCOTT HOTEL

EUROPEAN PLAN

PRICES REASONABLE

Cafe and Coffee Shop on the Parlor Floor We Serve the Best that Money Can Buy

Try Our Sunday Dinners

A. C. Disher, Manager

Compliments of

Holthouse

Furniture Store

Mrs. J. B. Holthouse, Prop.

Phone 2190

627-629 Main Street

Himes Bros. Dairy

Clarified and Pasteurized

Milk and Cream

Buttermilk and Cottage Cheese

Phone 1850

19 S. 6th St.

Compliments of

THE FIBRE CONDUIT CO. Orangeburg, N. Y.

NOLDER Millinery

Richmond, Indiana, Plant

39 North Eighth Street

ZWISSLER'S BAKERY

BAKERY 26-28 South Fifth Street RESTAURANT 908 Main Street

Home Phone 1654

Compliments of

ED. E. WENDLING Jeweler

1021 Main Street

One trouble with the great open spaces is that so many of them are situated under hats.

"Why is Jane Sylvester so angry with the photographer?"

"She found a label on the back of her picture that read: 'The original of this picture is carefully preserved."

"I completely forgot myself. In a moment of madness I tried to kiss her. Will she ever forgive me?"

"She will if you succeeded, but never if you didn't."

A dramatic story can be told in a very few words. Willis Bogue, when asked why he had been in the hospital, replied. "That's an awful hard head Horace Doan has."

Headquarters for Earlham Students

Loose-Leaf Goods, Fountain Pens, Laundry Boxes, Ink, Bibles and Everything

Remington Portable Typewriters

Come in—We Appreciate Your Business

Bartel, Rohe & Rosa Co.

921 Main Street

Richmond, Indiana

No man ever sank under the assignment of today. It is when tomorrow's assignment is added that it seems unbearable.

Mary (romantically): "I think the poets are right, Austin. It's only in the great open spaces that we find ourselves."

Austin: "Well, we're twenty miles from anywhere, the sun's going down, and I've lost the map, so now's your chance."

"There goes a rabbit," said the little boy.

"Nonsense, dear. It was your imagination."

"Daddy, is imagination white behind?"

Who Is Saving Your Money?

"The Home for Savings"

Are you saving your money or is some one else? The money you waste eventually finds its way into the savings account of some one. The money that should be working for you is earning interest for some one else.

Hundreds of young people have selected this big, friendly bank as their "Home for Savings"

$1.00 or more will open an account

3% interest compounded semi-annually will keep it growing

Dickinson Trust Company

"The Oldest, Largest and Strongest Trust Company in Eastern Indiana"

Earlham, we strive to Serve You the Best Quality

Meals, Confections and Candies

A Trial Will Convince You

The Kandy Shop Cafe

Phone 2734

919 Main Street

Fred M. Koons, Proprietor

Ray B. Mowe Co.

Richmond's Leading Store in

Orothophonic Victrolas
Victor Records
Radios
(R.C.A. and Crosley Sets)

Sporting Goods

1000 Main Street

We WELCOME You

DRAVER'S SWIMMING POOL

BONE'S

Beauty and Barber Shoppe

Marcel Waving and Manicuring

Soft Water Shampooing

Ladies and Children Hair Bobbing

PHONE 6355

Westcolt Hotel RICHMOND, INDIANA

Dress Well And Succeed

By Wearing

Kuppenheimer Suits Schoble Hats Emery Shirts Monito Hose

···· | | |

KENNEDY CLOTHING CO.

Business Manager (to applicant for vacant situation): "I shall want you to be partly indoors and partly outdoors."

Simpleton: "Yessir; but what will happen if the door slams?"

Hippity-hop from the bobber-shop Where I got a lovely shingle;

"Mama," I shrieked.
But what papa did

But what papa did Has left me all of a tingle!

Bob Fatherly in Economics class: "How could I live if I earned five dollars a week and it cost me five a week to live?"

Prof. Morris: "Would the world be any better off?"

Something new every week

Toilet Goods Specialties
Gift Novelties

A. G. LUKEN DRUG CO.

626-628 Main Street

Chenoweth Auto Co.

BUICK AUTOMOBILES

Heitz Drivurself Sedans

Rent a nice Sedan and Drive it Yourself

1107 Main Richmond, Indiana Che

Richmond

Shoe Hospital and Hat Cleaning Co.

909 East Main Street

Three centuries of dramatic progress: 1625 Shakespeare; 1925 Harold Lloyd.

Envy not the proud man. The "Peacock" to-day is often the feather duster to-morrow.

Prexy: "Sir, what does this mean? Someone just called up and said you were ill and unable to teach today."

Prof. Armstrong: "Ha, ha! The joke's on him. He wasn't supposed to call up until to-morrow."

FELTMAN'S SHOES

"Always" the latest in

POPULAR PRICED FOOTWEAR

$500 and $600

RICHMOND, INDIANA

In keeping with Earlham's new building and most convenient thereto, is the New Home of the

Bethard Auto Company

110 West Main Street

We boost for Earlham and hope Earlham will boost for us.

Compliments

of

THE SHERA COAL & OIL CO.

ABEL'S Velvet Ice Cream

2012

It's Different

C/100

USE ABEL'S

Retail

1600 East Main Phone 1901 Wholesale

713 North D Phone 1439

This Exclusive Apparel Shop

has served the CO-EDS of EARLHAM for many years—assembling that which is smart, modish and chic, all authentic according to Fashion's dictates.

Your inspection of our stock is welcome at all times—stop in, try on the stylish creations in Coats, Dresses and Millinery assembled from foremost designers of the country.

PHIL MERCURIO

Wholesale and Retail

Fruits and Vegetables

Phone 5216 618 Main St.

ARLINGTON HOTEL

EUROPEAN

Good Restaurant

Opposite Pennsylvania Station Richmond, Indiana

The Harter Shop

The Place of Refinement and where you'll find happiness!

Corner Tenth and Main Streets

"Save with Safety"

14 Rexall
DRVG STORES

REGARDING PROGRESS

During the past year two stores were added to our growing chain which now consists of fourteen, located at Fort Wayne, Anderson, Kokomo, Muncie, Noblesville, Richmond and South Bend.

SUCCESS

A noted writer defines success as a composite of energy, enterprise, endurance, economy and ethics. Whether or not our success is based upon these and other principles, remember please that you are always welcome at Meyer's drug stores.

The pessimist says: "Any milk in that pitcher?"

But the optimist says: "Please pass the cream."

Marriage has been defined by a popular young authoress as "the exchange of the attentions of several young men for the inattention of one."

"I hear your brother-in-law is pretty bad off,"

"He's good for a year. He's had four different doctors, and each one of them gave him three months to live."

Just because the girls laugh at your remarks is no sign that you are witty. Perhaps they have pretty teeth or a gold one. Compliments of the

UNION NATIONAL BANK

RICHMOND, INDIANA

For Your-

CAMP SUPPERS and BREAKFASTS

Chenoweth's Grocery

229 West Main Street

Phone 3141

"Wear Our Shoes" and you will be started right

The wise man builds from the bottom starting right at the base—our shoes make the better base.

"We have the good Styles first"

$B \stackrel{\it and}{\overline{}} \stackrel{\it and}{\overline{}} B$

807 Main Street

"Say it with Flowers" We Grow Them

"Just Call Flower Phone 1093"

LEMON'S Flower Shop

1015 Main Street

Prof. Root—"Imagine midnight, all silent as a grave. Two burglars enter through a window, the clock strikes one."

Bill Ott-"Which one?"

E. H. to Miss Cundiff—"Have you seen Helen Brenneman over here?"

Miss Cundiff—"I have neither seen nor heard her so I'm sure she isn't here"

IN SPANISH CLASS

Miss McCoy (anxiously): "Oh, what is the word for perplex?"

Ruthester (under her breath): "Couldn't find it."

Miss McCoy: "That's it exactly, Ruthester, Confunde! How did you know?"

And Ruthester blushed.

Congratulations to You Earlhamites

—— and ——

Compliments

of the Liberty

Light & Power Co.

Snappy Shoes

for

THE YOUNG MAN
THE YOUNG LADY

BROCKMAN & KREIMEIER

708 Main Street

Automatic Phone 1388

THE
J. M. COE PRINTING COMPANY

RICHMOND, INDIANA

1

General Commercial Work, Letter Heads, Bill Heads, Note Heads, Statements, Envelopes, Catalogs, Booklets, Folders, Cards, Literature for Every Class of Business.

Just a Reminder—

Price's

Have been serving Earlham students for sixty-one years. Their store service is beyond reproach, and the quality of their fresh made candies, ice cream and ices is without equal.

DELICIOUS LUNCHEONS

Phone 1253

916 Main Street

1865—OUR SIXTY-FIRST YEAR—1926

The Student Place

American college students are like sausage links turned out of a sausage factory.—Rufus Jones.

It is better to be alive with one lung than dead with two.—Dr. Markle,

Miss McCoy said, "I saw eight bulls and eight horses killed and I am alive to tell the tale."

Marion Cowperthwaite approaching Librarian asks for What is Pragmatism?

The horrified Librarian, "Good-night, I don't know."

Frosh walking over to Emergency Hall with Miss Kelsey, "How many years have you been here?"

Miss Kelsey: "This is my third." Frosh: "Gee, I wish I was that near through."

The MILLERKEMPER Co.

LUMBER MILLWORK BUILDING MATERIAL

Phones-3547, 3347

Style

in Fred's Pure Wool Clothes is a part of them as much as good woolens and fine tailoring. They cost no more than the ordinary kind.

$25—$30—$35

Come in and Look Them Over— You're not obliged to buy.

Fred's Clothes Shop

See Us for

Candy, Pop, Sandwiches and Camp Suppers

ASHBY & HAZEN

Phone 3043 W. Main & Fifth WE DELIVER

Buy Here for Less—

Tires, Tubes, Auto Supplies, Radio Supplies, Camping Equipment

GUARANTEE Tire and Rubber Co.

1020 Main Street

Bichmond, Indiana

Is a snore instrumental or vocal? Neither, it's vocal.

Curiosity killed the ancient kitty. Franklin Hinshaw, obsessed by the ancient bug, turns the Earlham Hall fire hose on himself.

Ralph Ewing in speaking of Beethoven, "Beethoven was a wonderful man in his boyhood."

Hints to father: Never give your son all the allowance you can afford. Keep back some to bail him out.

"Well, I must be going," the steeple jack said when his foot slipped.

It is to sniff. The U. S. Hay Fever Association is seeking to have a day set aside as St. Sniffer's Day.

Irvin Reed & Son

Hardware and Glass

Fine Cutlery

Corner Seventh and Main

Use Gas

— for all cooking, water heating and house heating purposes.

We are exclusive agents for

Clark-Jewel and A-B gas ranges, Pittsburg water heaters, and Humphrey radiant fires.

Quality and Service at Lowest Prices

Richmond Light, Heat and Power Co.

1126 Main St.

Phone 1267

1925 SUMMER SCHOOL

Hart, Shaffner & Marx

CLOTHES

The sort of Clothes young fellows like

LOEHR & KLUTE
Of Course

GIFTS THAT LAST

For

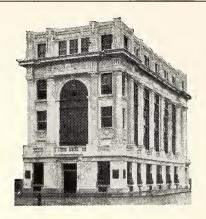

Graduation, Birthdays, Weddings, Anniversaries

11. 11. 11. 11. 11. II.

WE WISH TO CALL SPECIAL ATTENTION TO OUR GIFT SHOP

P

The Service of Your Bank

In selecting your banking home it is most import that you choose an institution from which you will always be certain to receive not only unquestioned protection for your funds but also careful, individual attention to your every requirement.

The officers of this institution are always pleased to be consulted personally on any banking or financial matters and to place their knowledge and experience at the disposal of customers.

Second National Bank

Stop and Shop Here

For Your

TOILET ARTICLES
CAMERAS DRUGS CANDIES
STATIONERY MAGAZINES

Soda Fountain

QUIGLEY & SON

400 East Main Street

Compliments

of the

NORTH STAR REFRIGERATOR CO.

Now I sit me up to cram
Before I take my next exam;
If I should die a nervous wreck,
There'd be one less to flunk, by heck.

Scientific version of the old oaken bucket:

The old oaken bucket, The pleurococcus covered bucket, The ferric oxide covered bucket That hangs in the well.

First Stude: "Boy, it must be plenty cold out."

Second Stude: "How's that?" First Stude: "There goes Bob Coffin wearing a hat."

NUSBAUM'S

The Largest Line of COATS and DRESSES in Richmond will be found in

NEW FIRST FLOOR READY-TO-WEAR SECTION

A Complete Department Store featuring merchandisc at Popular Prices.

Visit our Economy Basement Store—the store of Low Prices

NUSBAUM STORES, INCORPORATED

R. L. Nusbaum, '15 719-721 Main St. Bichmond Ed Gard (windy winter day): "Well.

I guess I'll go try it again."
Second Stude: "Try what again?" Ed Gard: "Try to get this Ford over that hill again."

Prof.: "Well sir, do you find school life much different from vacation

Cowboy: "Only a change in drug stores is all."

First Stude: "What kind of pool is that you're playing, Bill?"

Livezey: "This is squirrel pool." F. S.: "How do you play squirrel Livezev: "Shoot and they bunt the

Frosh: "Does Kenny Farris work at the Pennsy?"

Soph: "No, what got that in your

Frosh: "Well, I see him getting off and on trains all the time."

Best Wishes to Earlham

Murray Washington and Murrette Theatres

Offering You the Best and Catest Stage and Screen Attractions

HERFF-JONES COMPANY

Designers and Manufacturers of

JEWELRY

Indianapolis

Official Jewelers to Earlham College

HORNADAY'S Hardware Store

FISHING TACKLE SPORTING GOODS TENNIS SUPPLIES

HORNADAY'S HARDWARE STORE

616 Main St.

Phone 1281

Depend Upon

THE WAYNE DAIRY

for the Freshest Milk and Cream and the Best Butter.

Delivered at your door early every morning.

Phone 5238

Character Footwear

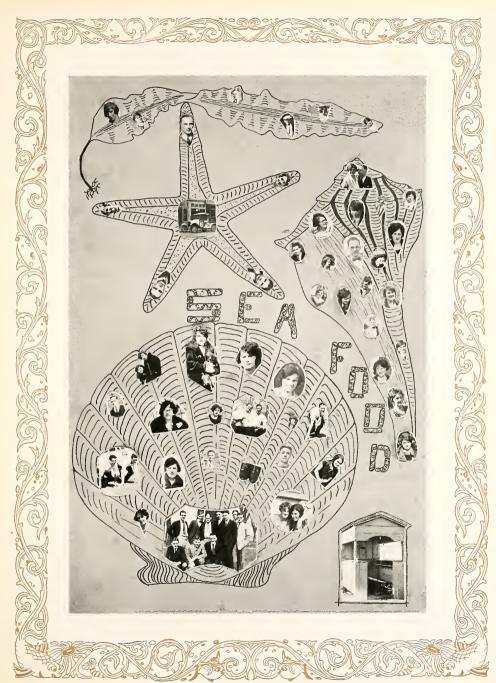

Choosing Stylish Footwear at Neff & Nusbaums is particularly satisfying because every pattern and style in this varied showing is in perfect accord with the garment fashions of accepted smartness.

In keeping with the Spirit of the Season our display of New Footwear will command first place in the Parade of Styles.

NEFF & NUSBAUM

The Shoe Corner

Richmond, Indiana

Page one hundred ninety-seven

ADAM H. BARTEL CO.

RICHMOND, INDIANA

Wholesale Exclusively
Dry Goods, Notions, Hosiery, Underwear, Rugs,
Oil Cloths, Linoleums, Etc.

Manufacturers of "PERFECTION LINE"

Overalls, Shirts, Coats, Pants, Etc.

Stop Here

for your Fountain Service and you will be well pleased

Our ice cream and sherbets are served direct from the Frigidaire Iceless Cabinet—no chance of contamination from ice or salt.

We Specialize on Fancy Dishes.

DRUGS

SUNDRIES

CONFECTIONS

Hardwick's

QUALITY MERCHANDISE

Phone 3520

Corner West Main and Third Streets

Richmond Young Men's Christian Association

Eighth and North A

Gymnasium Dormitories Swimming Pool Cafeteria

Good Fellowship and Cordial Welcome to All Young Men. Jane Sylvester: "I'll have to take Freshman lecture my senior year."

Frosh: "My goodness do you have to take that course till you pass it?"

Referee: "Foul on Number 1111 for holding.

Excited Professor: "Unjust decision. Consider yourself razzed, Mr. Referee."

SAM S. VIGRAN

617 Main Street

Richmond's Leading Sporting Goods Store

Everything for

BASEBALL BASKETBALL FOOTBALL

GOLF TENNIS TRACK, ETC.

KREIMEIER

TAILOR.

All Suits and Overcoats Made Here in Richmond

425 Main Street

Che CORONA FOUR

With Standard Four-Bank Keyboard, Standard 10-inch Carriage, Straight Line Visibility, Carrying Case, Standard 12-yard Ribbon.

DUNING'S

SALES-SERVICE

Telephone 2174

43 North Eighth Street

COMPLIMENTS OF

THE F. K. VAUGHN BUILDING COMPANY

HAMILTON, OHIO

Compliments of

The Earlham Glee Club

Electric Pumping Equipment Ray Rotary Oil Burners Water Softeners

John H. Niewoehner

Plumbing and Heating Contractor and Engineer

819 South G St.

Phone 1828

Richmond, Indiana

GENERAL COMMERCIAL PRINTERS

College Publications a Specialty

PRINTERS AND BINDERS OF "THE SARGASSO"

CAREFULLY LAID PLANS are ESSENTIAL to SUCCESS

In the absence of careful planning the lawyer's case fails before the bar of justice. Without method and plan the manufacturer cannot fabricate materials at a profit. Railroads could not maintain time schedules or avoid accidents without the most carefully considered and completely adhered to plans.

In like fashion careful and expert planning is essential to the successful completion of a building. Whether that building be a public edifice or a modest home, the architect's services are essential to the attainment of utility, beauty and permanence at reasonable cost.

HARRISON & TURNOCK ARCHITECTS

Members American Institute of Architects Members American Association of Engineers

Suite 500 Board of Trade INDIANA POLIS

